Fine Ensemble

By VERA WINSTON
SCORING smartly is the sheath with its own jacket, an ensemble that is jaunty, crisp and ideal spring fashion fare. Gray and white checked wool is used for the jacket worn with a sheath of gray wool trimmed with the checked fabric. The trim is used for two bands on the dress bodice and for the short sleeves. Plenty of interesting detail marks the straight and narrow, waist-length jacket. It buttons in front and has a belt that starts at the sides of the front and crisscrosses in back with two buttons on the tabs.
