Miss Ann H. Arthur, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Arthur of Hamilton, Ohio, formerly of Canton, became the bride of William Scott Chable, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Chable of Ridgewood, N. J., Saturday at 5 p.m. in St. Mary's Catholic Church in Hamilton.

The Rev. William Schwartz performed the ceremony, and a program of organ music was presented.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white lace. The fitted bodice was designed with a scoop neckline and short sleeves, and the ballerina length skirt was fashioned with a border of pleated tulle. Her veil of illusion fell from a lace cap trimmed with pearl flowers, and she wore matching lace mitts. She carried a cascade bouquet of white flowers centered with an orchid.

Mrs. Helen Chamberlain of Hamilton was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Sally Witters and Miss Nance Rees, also of Hamilton. They wore gowns of blue, striped organdy trimmed with lace, designed with square necklines, torso bodices, and bouffant skirts. They carried horse-shoe-shaped bouquets of white carnations and blue hyacinths.

Louis Chable, Jr., served as his brother's best man. Ushers were Michael Arthur, brother of the bride, and Milton Chamberlain, both of Hamilton.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. Approximately 150 guests attended.

The couple left for a wedding trip to Florida. For traveling the bride wore a beige suit with avocado accessories and the orchid from her bouquet. They will make their home in Ridgewood, N. J.

Mrs. Chable was graduated from Hamilton High School and attended Hamilton Business College.

Mr. Chable attended Dickinson College and the University of Maine. He is employed as a salesman with Champion Paper Export Company of New York and South America.

Special Assembly Session Asked On Segregation Issue

The North Carolina Advisory Committee on Education, unfolding its plan for meeting the public school segregation problem, last week proposed a system of tuition grants and local option.

Its recommendations were based on the theory that separate schools for whites and Negroes can be maintained through racial preference and administrative measures.

The report stated children should be assigned to public schools according to "natural racial preference" and on the basis of "what is best for the child."

It proposed that the Legislature meet in special session this summer to submit constitutional changes to the people which would provide a "safety valve" and escape from "intolerable situations."

Thomas Pearsall of Rocky Mount, chairman of the committee, read the report over a statewide radio and television network emanating from Chapel Hill.

The report's proposed constitutional amendments would:

1—Authorize financial grants from public funds to pay tuition of children in nonsectarian private schools.

2—Allow local communities to vote to close their public schools.

The committee declared the Supreme Court segregation decision dealt the state's public schools "a near fatal blow" and immediate action is needed to save them.

It said, "The decision of the Supreme Court... however much we dislike it, is the declared law and is binding upon us."

Therefore, it added, all school units should recognize that while there is no law compelling the mixing of races since the Supreme Court decision, "there can be no valid law compelling the separation of the races in public schools."

Said the committee, "We advise that each local school unit recognize honestly and in good faith that although there is no legal barrier to the admission of Negro children and white children to the same school, nevertheless, the children of one race should do better in a public school with children of the same race."

The committee thereupon recommended that each school unit should declare that initial assignments will be based on the best interest of the child, including residence, school attended the previous year, availability of facilities, and all other local conditions bearing upon the welfare of the child and the prospective effectiveness of his school."

The 1955 Legislature took away from the state the power of assigning and enrolling students and turned it over to local school units.

The report made no mention of private schools although it recommended tuition grants for education "only in nonsectarian schools."

The report stressed that "we are in a very dangerous situation" which could "become a dreadful situation quickly." The committee said, "Racial tensions are mounting in North Carolina every day."

People must be assured, declared the report, that "no child will be forced to attend a school with the children of another race in order to get an education."

In its opinion, it declared, the Supreme Court had not required the mixing of the races in the schools but forbidden the exclusion of a child from public school because of race.

The report said the committee was unanimous in the opinion that the people of the state "will not support mixed schools" and expressed the belief that if the schools were integrated the Legislature would "withhold support to a degree that the result would certainly be the ruin and eventual abandonment of the public schools."

But, it added, "Defiance of the Supreme Court would be foolhardy." It might alienate those "who may be won to our way of thinking," it might "forfeit consideration we must have from the federal judges if we are to educate our children now" and it "could mean the closing of the public schools very quickly."
