

Humane Society Seeks Temporary Animal Shelter

The May meeting of the Haywood County Humane Association was held Monday evening in the residence of Lyman Reed of Bethel. New members were welcomed by the president, Harry Behre, and the by-laws adopted at the April meeting were discussed further. The chairman of the committee to secure a location for an animal shelter reported on progress made in trying to find a suitable location for a shelter. The possibility of finding temporary boarding quarters for dogs and cats until an animal shelter can be built was discussed, and it was decided to endeavor to locate a farm home willing to board animals for a small fee.

DO YOU REGISTER?—To register with this Miss, you must register to vote. Jean Goodwin of Raleigh reminds you that Saturday May 12 is the last day you can register to vote in the May 26 primary. Blonde Miss Goodwin, employed by Carolina Power & Light Company in its Raleigh district office, is taping up a poster which has gone up in all CP&L offices reminding employes and customers of their privilege at the polls.

Canton High Campus Cuffnotes

By Patty Morgan

All the excitement and anticipation are over now that the prom and senior play have been given. The senior play, as I prophesied, was an excellent production. Characters in the play were Melissa Osborne, George Freeman, Linda

Temporary policies for handling stray, injured or sick animals, until a shelter can be acquired also were discussed.

A short social hour with refreshments served by the host, Mr. Reed, followed the meeting. Twenty members and guests were present. The June meeting is scheduled for Lake Junaluska and the July meeting for Waynesville.

Moore, Dale Childers, Bobbie Ann Hall, Sandra Williams, Eugene Van Hook, Patricia McDowell Lowe, Betty Lee Gaddy, Vicki Smathers, Barbara Carswell, Judy Stinnett, Violet Potter, Linville Robinson, Nancy Smathers, Lafayette Cagle, and Richard Reeves. Miss Gillis did an excellent job of directing the play.

The junior-senior prom Friday night was also another example of hard work and was a great success. The gym was beautifully decorated in the theme of "Underwater Fantasy". The juniors did a wonderful job of planning the food, orchestra, and decorations. We seniors certainly did enjoy our last prom at CHS.

Senior speakers for graduation night have been selected. They were chosen from 15 candidates by the senior class. They are John Ray Jamison, Dale Childers, Robert Deas, Linda Moore, and Patty Morgan. Subjects will be announced later.

Our Future Teachers of America Club presented the chapel program. The program was in honor of the birthday of Horace Mann, founder of the public school. The program was quite educational. Everyone benefited from it.

The Bears did it again! Yes, they defeated Lee Edwards 8-3. Another victim felt the claws of the Bears. The Bears have a fine record of only one loss and that, I'm sorry to say, was to the Mountaineers.

Coach Allen is doing a tremendous job with the boys. We only hope that they can keep their best foot forward all through the season. They tangled with the Waynesville Mountaineers again yesterday.

Senior invitations for graduation arrived Monday. The invitations are a sure sign that the end of school is near and the seniors' high school careers are terminating.

Canton High was represented in the safety parade Saturday by Nancy Smathers, Melissa Osborne, Clarie Brown, and Jackie Sue Williams. The parade began in Bethel and went through Canton, Clyde, Waynesville and Hazelwood. The parade was the beginning of a safety campaign in this section and will continue through the week. All drivers are asked to get their cars checked by the patrolmen in the safety check lane which is situated on the new highway, west of Canton.

Always remember the Chinese proverb: "Be not disturbed at being misunderstood; be disturbed rather at not being understanding."

The pastor, the Rev. Edgar Willis, extends an invitation to the public to attend all services of the day.
