high school years," she told the Board. Concerning her commitment to foreign mission service, she said that during her sophomore year in college, when she was praying that the Lord would send more missionaries to Japan, he spoke to her own heart. "Clearly, something inside me said, 'Why don't you go?' I knew I had been called, and I wanted to do what the Lord wanted me to do. At the same time, I knew that in my heart I did not want to be a missionary." During her senior year she surrendered her life to missions.

Mr. and Mrs. Goodwin have a son, James Garland, III, two. They are among 14 young people appointed for overseas mission service at the May meeting of the Board, bringing the total number of active Southern Baptist foreign missionaries to 1,059.
