FISH, FISH, A VERSATILE DISH

To a fisherman, the smell of his early morning catch frying over a wood fire means the finest breakfast this side of heaven. To a hungry school child, a hot hearty chowder or gumbo means satisfying a cavernous appetite—and perhaps the difference between a good and poor geography lesson that afternoon. And to the gourmet who expects something unusual for his dinner, fillet of sole with a wine sauce and a sprinkling of almonds is just the dish to make him think of fine French cooking.

Delicious, satisfying and nourishing—here's a day of menus, with recipes, that prove the versatility of the fish and shellfish caught in American waters.

Breakfast for a Fisherman at Home

- Bowl of Mixed Fruits
 - Shrimp Soup
 - Fish Sticks Scrambled Eggs
 - Toast Coffee
- For three persons, plan on one can of frozen shrimp soup, 1 package fish sticks, five or six eggs. Prepare the fruit ahead of time and chill it for several hours. Heat soup according to directions on can and keep hot in double boiler. Place fish sticks in pre-heated oven; while they are heating, scramble the eggs.

Hearty Lunch for Mom and the Kids

- Fish Gumbo*
 - Carrot and Raisin Salad
 - Apricots Chocolate Cookies
 - Milk Coffee
- FISH GUMBO
- 1 pound frozen fish fillets (cod, haddock or ocean perch)
 - 1/3 C. butter or margarine
 - 2 large onions, chopped
 - 2 green peppers, chopped
 - 2 No. 2 cans tomatoes and okra
 - 2 tps. salt
 - 1/4 tsp. pepper
 - 1 bay leaf
 - 1 C. cooked rice
- Let fillets thaw on the bottom shelf of the refrigerator or at room temperature. Meanwhile, melt butter in a saucepan. Add onions and peppers and cook until tender. Stir in canned tomatoes and okra and seasonings. Cook over low heat at least 15 minutes (overcooking doesn't hurt gumbo so long as the fish hasn't been added). Cut thawed fillets into cubes. About 10 minutes before serving time, add fish and rice to gumbo. Cook about 8 minutes or until fish flakes easily when tested with a fork. (Makes 4 servings.)

Striking Simplicity

By VERA WINSTON

RED and white looms large as a fine color combination for summer. We have seen it beautifully handled in some exquisite silks as well as some pretty hats. It is featured in this cleverly cut dress which is of nubby silk in rich Chinese red printed in etched white lines. So as to focus on the shape and fabric, there is no trimming or extraneous detail save, perhaps, the shaped tucks that point upward on the bodice, downward on the skirt. The dress zips in back for an unbroken line.
