Crisp Cotton

By GRACE THORNCLIFFE

BROWN and white cotton buttoned from neck to hem is used for one of those dresses that is every ready to do practical duty in town or out once the warm weather really gets going. All the edges are bound in solid brown to set off the plaid design and the buttons are brown, too. Side panels go all the way around to form an inverted pleat in back over the slim skirt. A half belt terminates at side front where it buttons on to the panels. Cool and unobtrusively smart is what daytime summer clothes should be.
