Reverse Action

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—Mead Miller, senior Oklahoma County excise board member, has been receiving complaints from a friend for weeks that his taxes were too high.

Finally, Miller sent out appraisers to check the friend's property. He reported back to the friend: "You're paying less than the regular valuation. We'll have to raise your taxes."

Pending Bills In Congress Viewed By Senator Ervin

WASHINGTON — Since writing last week, I have had time to get away from Washington for a few days to visit in several sections of North Carolina in connection with college commencements, including one talk in South Carolina.

THE GRADUATING CLASSES
 I have always enjoyed seeing young men and women as they begin their responsibilities as citizens. The graduating classes this year are leaving college to begin life under favorable circumstances. My idea of a commencement speech is that it should be timeless. That makes the preparation of a commencement talk require a great deal of time, and it is a real challenge to the best thought processes of the speaker.

AUTO DEALERS
 I am hopeful that the Senate will soon take up the O'Mahoney Bill. It seeks to give the automobile dealers of our country their day in court to protect them from the failure of automobile manufacturers to act in good faith in complying with the terms of franchises or in terminating or not renewing franchises with their dealers.

but the proposition should be more even and not so one-sided as now. The O'Mahoney Bill attempts to counter-balance this inequity.

ONE BRIGHT SPOT
 One bright spot in the new farm bill is that North Carolina will be about 63,101 acres better off in 1957 in cotton acreage as the result of the Stennis amendments which were adopted. I was glad to strongly support these amendments. They completely offset the scheduled 11.5 per cent reduction in acreage allotment for North Carolina in 1957 and will actually result in an increase of about 7,321 acres in 1957 as compared with 1956.

MISCELLANEOUS ITEMS

The Senate last week passed the appropriation for the new trout fish hatchery in Pisgah Forest. We are now ready to take up the social security revision proposals which will require considerable time. I was glad to see the Senate provide more funds for research in cancer and heart diseases. There is some talk around the Capitol that Congress should now complete its work by July 10, but I feel that it will probably be longer than that before adjournment.

Animals Banned

SOUTH CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP) — The City Council has proposed an ordinance making the city off limits to cows, horses, mules, goats, sheep, hogs, chickens, geese, turkeys and pigeons. Too many farm animals in the city, the council says.

Dogs, cats and song birds won't be affected.
