ported Chantilly lace and net was styled with molded lace bodice featuring an off-shoulder neckline and short sleeves. The floor-length full skirt of pleated net was designed with a shorter overskirt of lace. She wore matching lace mitts and her finger-tip veil of imported illusion was attached to a crown of hand-cut lace encrusted with seed pearls and sequins. She carried a cascade bouquet of Cecile Brunner roses garlanded with stephanotis.

Miss Elizabeth Mustian of Kiltrell, college roommate of the bride, was maid of honor. Her floor-length gown of pink nylon net over taffeta was designed with satin cummerbund and ruffled apron effect. She wore a matching head band and carried a cascade bouquet of Laddie carnations, gypsophila, and larkspur.

The bridegroom's father served as best man and ushers were Joseph Morrow and James Fuzate. Honorary bridesmaids were Miss Mary Frances McCracken, Miss Bates Ray, and Miss Lillian Knox Medford, all of Route 4, Waynesville, Miss Caroline York of Canton, Miss Jackie Sue Redmond, cousin of the bridegroom, of Waterville, and Miss Nancy Rathbone of Camp Hill, Pa., cousin of the bride.

The parents of the bride entertained at an informal reception following the ceremony. Assisting in

Blue Heaven

By VERA WINSTON

FASHION has the blues this year, but we don't mind one bit. That's because the blues are the rich lovely tones that make up the wide range of this heavenly color from midnight blue to palest azure. Turquoise blue is used for this cotton daytime dress with a midriff sash of dark green plaided in blue. It ties in a bow in back. A buttoned band rises high on the bodice and low on the skirt which is of released, unpressed knife pleats. A many-occasion dress.

MISS SYLVIA DEAN HARBERT, director of personnel for Camp Junaluska for Girls, has just signed a contract for her book, "Functions of the Office of College Registrar," to be published this year. Miss Harbert came to Camp Junaluska from the University of Miami, where she has served as coordinator of high school relations for two years. Prior to that time she served at the University of Tampa as registrar and assistant to the dean.
