Chairman Graham Tells Limitations Of Funds From Federal Highway Program

Since the recent passage of the biggest federal road-bill in history, many people in the rural areas think that the Highway Commission now has unlimited funds to make extensive improvements on the primary, secondary and urban roads. Such is not the case, Highway Chairman A. H. Graham said today.

To clear up any misunderstanding by the public about the new road bill, he pointed out that "although a tremendous road program is under way and a large amount of federal funds are available, the bulk of the national road program is specifically earmarked for work on only one road system—the Interstate Highway System."

"Already we have been contacted by individuals and even delegations who want to get their bid in early for a share in the new federal funds. They don't seem to understand that little of the increased federal funds will be available for local and county road improvements."

"I hope people will realize that the new road bill provides no appreciable increase in funds for the primary, secondary and urban roads. The lion's share of the increased federal funds can be used only on the Interstate system. The new measure is so worded that the funds cannot be transferred for work on the other road systems."

It's true that during the first year of the program, the State will receive an additional $25.5 million for work on the Interstate system in North Carolina. However, only $3 million more federal funds are available for the primary, secondary and urban links, he added.

With the exception of 1,000 miles, the routes for the entire projected 41,000-mile national defense Interstate system have already been designated by the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads. North Carolina has only 717 miles of this vital interregional road system. It is on these 717 miles that the majority of the new federal funds can be spent.

In addition to the 717 miles of the Interstate system, North Carolina has some 11,000 miles of primary and urban highways which do not qualify for any of the increased Interstate funds simply because they're not on the designated system. "I'd like to stress that there is no sizeable increase in federal funds for work on the primary, secondary and urban roads," he said.

"If you've got a favorite road project that you'd like to see built now that Congress has passed the big road bill, you might just as well forget it. That sounds harsh, but it's true. Unless your pet project happens to be on the 717-mile Interstate system, chances are that Clyde, and along the Pigeon River none of the increased funds can be route into Tennessee.

Champion To Play Four Home Tilts This Weekend

The Champion YMCA softball team will be at home this weekend for two doubleheaders.

On Friday night, the Southern Regional champions will take on Champion Mills at 7:30 and at 8:30 will meet the Dayton Rubber aggregation.

Champion Mills and Dayton Rubber currently are tied for the lead of the Haywood County Softball League.

On Saturday night, Champion Y will play a doubleheader with Buck's Restaurant of Asheville, now leading the Asheville City

Softball League and probably the top challenger to Champion Y for the district title.

On a road trip last weekend, Champion took a pair from Dupont Nylon of Chattanooga, 3-1, and 4-0, and a single game from Layfield Motors of Atlanta, 5-2.

Another double feature, against Thomas Sporting Goods of Bessemer, Ala., was rained out Saturday.

He inquired about how the luck

Youngsters Using Magic Touch Land Many Fish From Choice Hole At Junaluska

By CLIFTON B. METCALF

Old-timers may have their favorite fishing holes which always produce the big ones, but it is doubtful if any can match in numbers the feat of two youngsters at the Lake recently.

The boys caught a total of 34 fish in three hours in Lake Junaluska from an area about four feet square.

Woody Wiggins of Summerville, S. C., and Lake Junaluska, who is only eight years old, pulled out the largest one. It was estimated at about eleven inches in length. He caught a total of 14, and declined to give the location of his "lure."

Spencer Moore of St. George, S. C., didn't catch an 11-incher, but he made up for it in number by landing a total of 20 in the three hours.

Spencer is 14 and a 9th grade student at St. George High School. The fish ranged in length from about four inches to eleven with an average of about 8 or 9 inches.

A spectator, who later caught several nice ones from the same spot himself, told the following story.

It seems that this Negro friend frequently took him, his sister, and a couple of his buddies down to a river near his home to fish. One fine day when they were enjoying themselves, a stranger approached carrying a strange contraption under his arm.

He inquired about how the luck was running, and after getting a "not so good" answer he stepped into the back of a boat anchored to the bank and put down the contraption, which turned out to be an old-fashioned crank-type telephone.

He put the two loose wires into the water and began to crank. Meanwhile, he began calling, "here fish . . . here fish . . . here fish . . . here fish."

Suddenly a fish floated to the top of the water several feet away. The stranger kept right on cranking and calling "here fish . . . here fish," and another popped up.

The elderly Negro just blinked his eyes and glanced from one fish to the other.

All of a sudden one about 18 inches long came up right in front of him and rolled over on its side.

Up jumped the Negro and away he went with eyes as big as saucers. It seems that the spectator's father couldn't convince the Negro that the fish had been shocked by current generated by the telephone and that they had not responded to the stranger's call.

Dayton Rubber's busy softball team will take on the Champion Y Cubs tonight in the Haywood County League, go against Champion's Southern Regional champions Friday night at Canton, and then will be at home Sunday afternoon for a doubleheader with the Brevard Moose team.

Sponsors of the twin bill here will be the Waynesville Moose lodge.

In two previous games this week, Dayton Rubber split a pair with the Clyde Independents in the Haywood League, winning the first, 7-4, and dropping the second, 3-2.

In their winning effort, the rubbermakers got eight hits to the losers' five. Junior Howard started for Dayton but got in trouble in the first inning and had to be relieved by manager Cohen Matthews. Griffin of Clyde was charged with the loss.

Clyde took an early lead in the game, 4-2, but Dayton came through with three runs in the fourth and added one each in the fifth and seventh innings.

In losing last night, Dayton Rubber out-hit Clyde, 3-2, but five errors led to the locals' downfall.

Neil Wyatt got Dayton's only runs when he hit a homer with catcher Manuel Hooper on base.

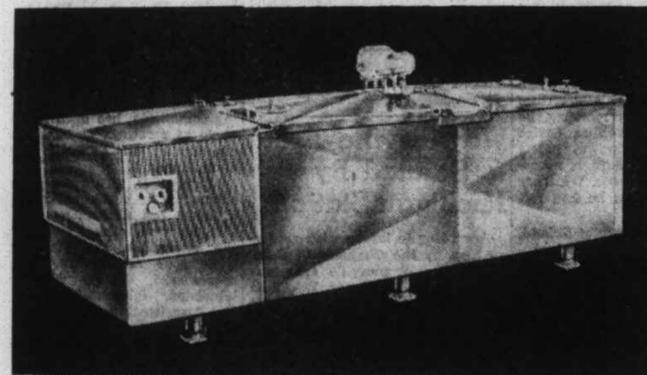

Griffin tied up the contest for Clyde with a round-tripper in the fourth and Morgan crossed the plate with the winning run in the sixth on a wild throw by Dayton's third baseman.

beautiful tee shot but he thought his ball had reached a pond 225 yards away.

He tossed his club and it hit a tree. When he found the club it was in two pieces. He received no prize for shooting a 93 but got six new golf balls for breaking the club.
