Bradshaw Mintner, assistant secretary of the U. S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare. The response will be given by the Rev. H. Crawford Walters, president of the British Methodist Conference.

Welcoming addresses will be given by Gov. Luther H. Hodges of North Carolina, Dr. Oscar Thomas Olson of Cleveland, Ohio, chairman of the United States section of the council; Bishop W. J. Walls, Chicago, of the A.M.E. Zion Church in behalf of other Methodist bodies in America, and Edwin L. Jones of Charlotte, treasurer of the council and president of the Lake Junaluska Assembly Board of Trustees.

Responding to the welcomes will be the Rev. W. J. Noble, secretary of the council's executive committee in Great Britain.

The Saturday night program will feature a "Panorama Of Methodism" under the direction of Bishop Donald H. Tippett, San Francisco, Calif., chairman of the Methodist Church's Television, Radio and Film Commission. Bishop Holt will be the narrator.

The special program was arranged by Dr. T. Otto Nall, Chicago, editor of the Christian Advocate, Methodist newsweekly, and Miss Dorothy McConnell of New York, editor of World Outlook, missionary journal.

Dr. Elmer T. Clark of Lake Junaluska, council secretary, said the daily program will include platform hours, discussion groups, theological lectures and public assemblies featuring prominent clergymen and laymen as speakers. Principals will number men and women of all nationalities and from all walks of life.

Delegates and visitors are being housed in every available space at Lake Junaluska, including trailer facilities installed this week, and many are staying in Waynesville and at motor courts and lodges from Canton to Maggie Valley.

MORE ABOUT Dr. Butler

pita in Pittsburgh.

Dr. Butler began practice of medicine at Dayton, Pa., and remained for nine years until he left for Army service in 1935 as medical director of Civilian Conservation Corps camps in the Third Corps Area from 1935 to 1939, with headquarters in Front Royal, Va.

He resumed private practice in Madison, Va., where after 18 months he was recalled to active Army duty. During World War II he spent six years as surgeon with the 105th Coast Artillery and 20 months as Chief of X-ray with the 101st Evacuation Hospital in the European Theatre of Operations, with the rank of lieutenant colonel.

He again resumed private practice at Front Royal, Va. in 1947 where he has been a leading figure in medical, civic and church activities. He is a member of the Virginia State Medical Society, the Northern Virginia Medical Society and a past president of the medical staff of the Warren Memorial Hospital, Front Royal.

Dr. and Mrs. Butler are active members of the Front Royal Methodist Church. They have a son, R. K. Jr., a member of the teaching faculty at Episcopal High School for Boys in Alexandria, Va., and a daughter, Mrs. John Thomas, of Lake Junaluska.

DEAF DOG GETS A HEARING AID

A VICTIM OF PROGRESSIVE deafness, Chick, a cocker spaniel, couldn't hear himself bark or answer the call of his master, Stanley Kind, of Baltimore. But that's all over now, because Kind took his 14-year-old pet to a hearing center, where the dog is shown being fitted with a hearing aid by Angela Russonello, president of the center, who is studying Chick's case.
