A meeting of the new advisory council will be held at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday at the Waynesville Town Hall. Council members are asked to be present.

A Gentleman

WILKES-BARRE, Pa. (AP)—John Tripak knows that somewhere in Wilkes-Barre there is a very honest man but it may cost him some money because he doesn't know just where.

Tripak's car was struck by another car and damaged while parked.

The motorist who struck the Tripak car was gentleman enough to leave a note with his address. Tripak lost the note.

Approach Of Fall Brings Promise Of Bright Foliage

Autumn flowers and the first bright splashes of autumn color on mile-high mountains are foretelling North Carolina's spectacular autumn foliage parade which will be seen between now and early November on the highest mountains in Eastern America.

With every highway and resort a showcase for autumn foliage in the Blue Ridge and Great Smoky Mountains of Western North Carolina, almost all tourist facilities remain open to accommodate the increasing numbers of visitors who are discovering the beauty of the highlands when their vast forests of hardwoods turn to crimson and gold.

Western North Carolina, where there are 223 peaks of 5,000 feet elevation or more, is the meeting place of the two most-visited National Park facilities in the land: the Great Smoky Mountains National Park and the Blue Ridge Parkway. Both are so popular during the autumn color season that October attendance now rivals that of mid-summer.

Travelers can enjoy North Carolina's autumn beauty without leaving main highways—many of them new or newly improved during the past year. For those who want to get off the beaten path there are numerous side roads and hiking trails connecting with paved routes through Pisgah and Nantahala National Forests, and the Great Smokies Park, and along the Blue Ridge Parkway.

Danny Kaye Wins Praise In Capital

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON — It's doubtful if any visiting VIP ever won more friends or tickled Capital funnybones more expertly than agile-witted and completely unpredictable comedian Danny Kaye.

He wowed his audiences at the Carter Barron Amphitheater where he was appearing. He amused the socialites at numerous parties given in his honor. He impressed the highwigs with his serious reports on his 32,000-mile trip through the Middle East for the benefit of the United Nations International Children's Emergency Fund. Even the critics adored him.

Sylvia, his wife, who with their daughter Dena, 10, joined him here, said Danny loves parties.

Mrs. Kaye, who selects and edits her husband's scripts and writes the musical lyrics, says they often give supper parties for 80 at home in California. Danny, she said, clowns as much at home as in public. He likes to horse around in silly, small-size hats which he hoards. He's been promising a hat to just about every crowned head in Europe before whom he's appeared and, Sylvia says wistfully, "I'm just longing for the day when he keeps all those promises."

Kim Novak, lovely blonde Hollywood star, also captivated the townfolk she met. She welcomed the press in her hotel suite in silk pajamas and barefooted. She sat on the floor and talked about her passion for painting. She has a way of interpreting different personalities in color. She sees vacation travel and in North Carolina following a tight-of-way averaging over 3,000 feet in elevation, is famous for the close-ups and sweeping vistas it affords motorists. Opened during the past year is a new 11-mile spur of the Parkway soaring from U. S. 276 in Pisgah National Forest near Waynesville to Beech Gap in the remote Devil's Courthouse Country of the Balsam Mountains. This section of the Parkway, a link in the route which will eventually connect the Shenandoah National Park in Virginia with the North Carolina entrance to the Great Smoky Mountains National Park, is built at an average elevation of over 4,000 feet. The Parkway offers a paved motor route from the Virginia line to Asheville.

Paved motor roads and main highways connect the Parkway with resorts and scenic attractions, and the summit of Mount Mitchell, highest peak in Eastern America, is accessible from the Parkway by a paved state highway.

Other mountain peaks accessible by motor roads are Grandfather and Roan Mountains and Mount Jefferson, near the Parkway; and Wayah Bald Mountain in Nantahala National Forest, Whiteside Mountain near U. S. 64 in the Sapphire Country, and Clingman's Dome, highest peak in the Great Smoky Mountains National Park. From Soco Gap on U. S. 19 west of Waynesville, a spur of the Blue Ridge Parkway leads up to Mile-High Overlook, where it meets the Great Smoky Mountains and connects with a paved Park road up to Haintooga Overlook in the Park. Statewide fairs and festivals are important autumn attractions. At Cherokee, on the Indian Reservation at the entrance to the Great Smokies Park, the 29th annual Cherokee Indian Fair will be held October 2 through 6.

herself in blues and purples! Then there was big Carr Hartley, famed big-game hunter and trapper from East Africa. En route to Hollywood to see about supplying wild animals for another movie, he was a guest of Dorothy Lee Ward, photographer and writer, who met him on a visit to Rumlut, his 22,000 acre farm in Kenya, where he now has 500 animals.

Disruption

FOR PIERCE, Fla. (AP) — A five-foot alligator disrupted play in a hurry when he waddled on to the diamond during a boys' Pony League baseball game.

There was an immediate uproar which subsided only after Ken Gordy, a team manager, managed to lasso and tie the reptile and turn him over to police.

The saurian apparently was flushed from a nearby drainage ditch by dogs.
