

Catamounts, Mountaineers Meet Saturday At Asheville

With the sweet taste of victory, the Western Carolina Catamounts are busily preparing for their first conference encounter of the 1956 season, as they meet up with the highly touted Appalachian Mountaineers in the mythical Western North Carolina Championship, this Saturday night.

The two teams will clash before an estimated 7,500 persons in Asheville's Memorial Stadium, and many of the fans will be on hand to see the "rejuvenated" Catamounts under their new head mentor, Dan Robinson.

Robinson made his debut in the college coaching ranks last Saturday night when the Western Catamounts dumped a fighting Carson-Newman eleven by the score of 19-13.

Fans have been buzzing all week about the fine display put on last week by the Western gridders. And they have plenty to talk about! Each of the four starting backs for the Catamounts averaged over four yards per carry. Buddy Reector led the fleet-footed backs with an 6.71 average, while Tommy Lewis was right on his heels with 5.8 yards per carry. Rip Perry picked up 4.43 and Tally Williamson the pigskin for an average of 4.12.
