 3. Publication of a new tourist folder with pictures and descriptions of Maggie Valley business establishments.
 4. Continuation of the present travel folder, which is placed at points in distant cities.
 5. Continuation of the Maggie Chamber of Commerce office, furnishing of information service to tourists, and selling of C. of C. memberships to valley businessmen.
 Mrs. Leta Smathers, formerly of the Canton Chamber of Commerce, who served as secretary at Maggie this summer, was rehired for the post next year.
 Mr. Caldwell said all businesses in the area will be asked to display the humorous "Maggie Sez" signs, and to place on top of those, another sign bearing the message "Slow Down; Let's Live Awhile".
 Mr. Caldwell explained that the beautification program calls for group plantings of native evergreens such as white pine and hemlock and such flowering trees and bushes as sourwood, dogwood, mountain laurel, rhododendron, and azalea.
 Concluding his talk, the Chamber director pointed out that "a nule can't kick while he's pulling, and he can't pull while he's kicking."
 Named as officers of the Maggie Valley Chamber of Commerce for 1957 were: H. C. Griswold, president; Harry Stewart, vice president, and Tom Campbell, treasurer.
 Directors named included seven who have served previously: Mr. Caldwell, Mrs. M. L. Sadler, Carl Henry, Sam McCrary, Tommy Rhinehart, Mr. Stewart, and Mr. Campbell, and three persons chosen for the first time: Fred Henry, Worth B. Allen, and Evelyn Parham.
 Additional plans for the development of Maggie Valley were discussed by Ned J. Tucker, executive vice president of the Waynesville Chamber of Commerce, who proposed a four-point program:
 1. Community recreation program, to include a swimming pool, softball field, children's playground, roller skating, square dancing, horseback riding, nature hikes, and lectures.
 2. Community planning and beautification commission.
 3. Modern sewage-disposal plant and garbage pickup service.
 4. Watershed tract for present and future water supply.
 In regard to the latter point, Mr. Tucker commented: "The growth of Maggie Valley at present is limited by the water supply."
 (Already under consideration by the Maggie Kiwanis Club is the organization of a volunteer fire department in Maggie Valley.)

MORE ABOUT Senator Scott

 had the road, Senator Scott continued, as he stood and gazed at the multi-colored trees in the wide expanse of the Park.
 He was interested in studying the map, and seeing that the proposed road would open up the Eastern end of the Park, and tie-in with the Pigeon River Road—a project he has been vitally interested in for many years. He allocated $1,500,000 for the road while he was governor, and it was this money, plus $450,000 previously allocated by Gov. Gregg Cherry, that was used for grading the present 6-mile section of the important interstate highway.
 Senator Scott was interested in the fact that the grade of the proposed road would be slight, and would go from the 5,300-foot elevation at Paul's Gap down to 2,000 feet at the Cataloochee Campground, which is part of the Park's "mission 66" program. The road would pass through a virgin forest of white pine and poplars. Estimates are that the project will cost about $1,500,000.
 The former governor was reluctant to leave the area, and his associates had to suggest several times that their schedule called for getting to Waynesville, Canton, and back to Asheville by noon. The senator spent so much time checking on the area in the Heintoooga section, that no stop was possible in Waynesville, as his party hurried on to keep a speaking engagement in Asheville.
 Senator Scott is a member of the Interior Committee of the Senate, and said he would take the matter up with Conrad Wirth, director of the National Park Service, when he got back to Washington. Congressman Shuford is a member of the Public Lands Committee, and the Interior Department branch.
 Senator Scott spent Tuesday night at Parkway Motor Court, as guest of Mr. and Mrs. John M. Queen, and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Queen. He was accompanied by two assistants, Ben Roney, administrative assistant, and Roy Wilder, a secretary. Accompanying the senator to Heintoooga also included John M. Queen, W. Curtis Russ, Richard Queen, secretary to Congressman Shuford, and Loranzo Smathers, chairman of the Haywood Democratic Executive Committee.

 brought the closing message. He challenged those present to shake themselves from their lethargy and to give themselves unreservedly to the cause of winning others to faith in Christ. His subject was "Trumpet Notes and Broken Pitchers."
 In the discussion that followed these messages, the group voted to organize under the name of "Baptist Advance in Mountains of Western North Carolina." T. E. Robnett, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Waynesville, was elected chairman; Wayne Williams, of Asheville, was elected vice chairman; and R. W. Abrams, of the First Baptist Church, Sylva, was named secretary-treasurer.
 The executive committee composed of one pastor and one layman from each association was also elected. The following were elected: Buncombe, Rev. Nane Starnes, Buford Thompson; Carolina, Rev. M. M. Goss, W. M. Henson; French Broad, Rev. H. G. Barnes, Wade Huey; Haywood, Rev. Tommy Gale, L. L. Shaver; Transylvania, Rev. J. T. Neal, Thomas Brotherton; Cherokee, Rev. Euel Payne, Alfred Walkingstick; Tuckaseegee, Rev. Zeb Baker, W. C. Hennessee; Macon, Rev. M. W. Chapman, J. H. Brookshire; Tennessee River, Rev. Wayne Slaton, Roy Millsaps; Western North Carolina, Rev. John Corbitt, Grady Farmer. There were also three members of the executive committee elected at large. They were Rev. G. E. Scruggs of Murphy, Dr. J. C. Canipe of Hendersonville, and Dr. W. Perry Couch of Asheville.
 The executive committee was asked to meet as soon as possible and begin a study of the Baptist program in this area. They were asked to work with the General Board of the Baptist State Convention of North Carolina in securing an area missionary to help coordinate and promote the Baptist program in the mountains of Western North Carolina.

 Green.
 Two of Mrs. Rogers' sons and a daughter are dead: Buddy of Portland, Ore., Tom of Hartford, Tenn., and Mrs. Dave Morris of Sevierville, Tenn.
 Mrs. Rogers, who now lives at Teague's Rest Home in Waynesville, made the trip to Fines Creek for the reunion and appeared in excellent spirits throughout the day.
 Six different generations were at the reunion—including a number of Mrs. Rogers' 68 grandchildren, 110 great-grandchildren and 50 great-great grandchildren.
 Last year, on her 105th birthday, Mrs. Rogers received greetings from President Eisenhower.
 Until only about two years ago, Mrs. Rogers was able to read her Bible and the newspapers, but no longer does so. However, her children say her memory is "as good as it ever was". She sits up all during the day and is able to get about by herself.

 aration on the part of each club. The over-all theme will be "Planned Family Living," and each club has developed a different aspect of family life correlating with this general topic.
 An added attraction will be an International Relations Exhibit, which is an outgrowth of a study of foreign countries which has been carried on during the year. Each club will show a doll dressed in costume native to the country studied and a typical food of that country.
 Exhibits will be judged by the Danish System and ribbons will be awarded on the following scores: blue ribbons, 90 to 100 points; red ribbons, 80 to 90 points; and white ribbons, 70 to 80 points.
 The scoring system gives 50 points for general appearance, based on simplicity, organization, and attractiveness and 50 points for educational value, based on the inspirational and interest value, teaching value, recommendations value, and the application value to home club members.
 Miss Cornwell said that a special invitation had been issued to merchants and civic leaders of the county to attend the program Tuesday night. Members of the individual clubs will serve as hostesses for their booths throughout the visiting hours.

Man Again Held For Assault On Wife, Daughter

Glenn Parris of the Lake Logan road, who was jailed a week ago Wednesday on charges of cutting his wife and knocking down his married daughter, was arrested again yesterday on charges of threatening the two women with a 30-30 rifle.
 Deputy Sheriff Gene Howell said Mrs. Ruby Parris and her daughter, Mrs. Azalee Trull, came to the sheriff's office Wednesday evening to report that they had been ordered out of their home by Mr. Parris at the point of a gun. They said he had been drinking again — as he was the previous week when arrested.
 Deputies Howell and Vernon Messer arrested Parris about 7 p.m. at his home, and said he offered no resistance.
 Parris, who operates a grocery on the Lake Logan road, was given a hearing this morning before Justice of the Peace J. J. Ferguson on two charges of assault with a deadly weapon. He was bound over to the November term of Superior Court under a $500 bond.
 Last week he was bound over to Superior Court on bonds of $500 and $300. He was in jail about five days before making the bond.
