

WCC Homecoming Plans All Set For October 27th

Plans have been completed for the Homecoming Day celebration at Western Carolina College, according to Tyree H. Kiser, chairman of the Homecoming Committee.

On Saturday, October 27, the event will begin with a parade in Sylva at 10 a. m., sponsored by the Student Senate. The theme chosen for this year's parade is "Songs of the Old South," and each float will be decorated to represent some particular song.

Registration for alumni will be held in Joyner Building from 11:30 to 1:00. Open house is scheduled in all dormitories and the Student Union Building from 1:00 to 3:30. The new gymnasium will be open for inspection from 3:30 to 4:15 p. m.

Alumni and guests will be entertained at a tea in the faculty lounge and roof garden of Hunter Library at 4:15, with the local chapter of Alpha Phi Sigma as hosts.

At five o'clock there will be an alumni mass meeting in the gallery of Hunter Library, with Tom Maloney of Candler, president, in charge. Officers for the ensuing year will be elected at that time.

The annual barbecue will be held on the college picnic grounds at 5:30. This will be the scene of class reunions for the following years: 1893 through 1924; 1926; 1931; 1936; 1941; 1946; 1951; 1953; and 1955.

Mrs. Nixon Does Own Housework

WASHINGTON — Some wives lost out on getting a fur coat back in 1952. Now some wives are unable to convince their husbands they need a full-time maid—all because of pretty Pat Nixon.

ice awards will be presented to two WCC alumni who are to be chosen by a special committee from among nominees submitted by other alumni.

At this time, also, a special ceremony will be held retiring jersey number 54 belonging to Art Byrd of Franklin Byrd was named to Little All-American in 1949, the only WCC football player ever to have received this distinction.

Immediately prior to the football game, President W. E. Bird will crown the Homecoming Queen and her court will be presented.

Eight-ten is kick-off time for the game between WCC's Catamounts and Elon College Christians.

The day's program will end with a dance in the gallery of Hunter Library, sponsored by the Marshall's Club.

stick to your cloth coat?" the husbands argued after Pat clung to her "last year's wrap" when her husband was elected to the second top job in the nation.

Husbands, according to the grumbling of the wives, agreed that Pat Nixon set a sensible example. At least it was the example they picked for their wives to follow.

Now it comes out that Pat Nixon does her own cooking and housekeeping. Out of biographical data Pat shared with the press after her husband's nomination in San Francisco, including such items as she wears a size 10 dress which usually doesn't need any altering, that she doesn't wear a lot of jewelry, that she herself takes up the hems of dresses of her daughters, Trivia, 10, and Julie, 8, it was the fact that she didn't have a full-time maid that got through to the menfolk.

"If the wife of the vice president of the United States can keep up the busy, top-flight social schedule she does in Washington, travel more than four times around the world in the last four years, raise two nice little girls, keep house and do all her own cooking without a maid and still look glamorous, they ask, "why can't you?"

Pat has a good reason for doing her own cooking and housekeeping. She believes her children have "missed some of the joys many children have," because of the official and social responsibilities of her husband's high office which take them away from home so much of the time. "That's the main reason I do my own cooking and housekeeping, so I can be with them as much as possible when I AM in Washington," she explained.

Doctor Says Campaigning Good For Politicians' Health

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON—Dr. George W. Calver, physician to the nation's lawmakers for 28 years, says this summer's political campaigning is the best thing they can do to keep fit.

"They'll be making speeches out in the open, breathing deeply," he told me. "They'll be accentuating their remarks, moving their arms around, and the sunshine isn't going to bother them."

As a matter of fact, the genial, mid-mannered doctor finds the members of Congress in "very good shape" this year. "They're beginning to realize they have to take care of themselves," he said. "I keep pounding away at any old axiom — if you spend five percent of your time to keep well, you won't have to give 100 percent getting over being sick. They seem to be taking my advice."

What about heart attacks I asked. "If you eat right, get the proper exercise and rest, you won't get heart attacks," he said.

He himself spends weekends on his 520-acre property on the Potomac in nearby St. Mary's County, Md. He has a wood and metal workshop where he repairs and makes new parts for farm equipment and he's kept busy cultivating 250 acres, growing tobacco, corn, soy beans and other crops. In town he says he walks for at least an hour every day, mostly around the National Zoological Gardens, where he has become acquainted with most of the animals. "They generally like a lump of sugar," he says.

Dr. Calver has two daughters. One is married to Navy Capt. Eldon Swanson, has five children and has just moved to Japan. The other, Mrs. Paul Dickens, lives with her husband and three children in nearby Arlington, Va.

The doctor, with the assistance of two young Navy physicians, keeps his Capital Hill office open as long as Congress is in session — "sometimes around the clock during a filibuster," he says—and he tries to keep it non-partisan.

Honest Winner

DEL MAR, Calif. (AP)—Joe Fuller cashed a winning ticket at the Del Mar racetrack recently. He later counted his money and found $30 more than he expected. The next day he returned to the cashier and asked him if he'd come up short the night before. "As a matter of fact," said the cashier, "I was $30 short."

Fuller handed across the $30—and won on the next races.

Ahead Early

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP)—Pat Joyner got the jump on her prospective husband even before the wedding ceremony.

A deputy clerk in the county judge's office, she made out her own marriage license application. And since she was a notary public she got 50 cents of the $3.50 fee paid by her fiancé, John Leonard Hicks.

1. ESSO for the millions of motorists who want a fine gasoline at "regular" price... the most popular gasoline sold in this area served by Esso Dealers.
2. ESSO EXTRA Gasoline now enriched with Vitane®—designed for those who prefer the outstanding performance that only a premium gasoline delivers.
3. New GOLDEN ESSO EXTRA — an entirely new gasoline to power the growing number of high-compression cars which cannot deliver full performance with any gasoline available in this area today. More costly to make — does more for you.

Choose the fuel you need without paying a penny for quality you can't use.

Because thousands of cars demanded it... Esso Research brings you the first gasoline specifically designed to make the most of today's new, higher-compression engines. It is the world's finest gasoline for any car... literally the power fuel that skipped the years.

Engine compression ratios have increased so rapidly in today's automobiles that up to now no fuel available in this area could get top power out of these higher-compression engines. Because of this need, Esso Research created new Golden Esso Extra four full years ahead of schedule. Scientifically designed and balanced to provide full power—top mileage — and long life for even the most advanced engine designs. So powerful that drivers who tried it in advance tests reported an immediate improvement in performance.

Of course, many cars will continue to give fine performance on Esso and Esso EXTRA. But we think most motorists will want to find out for themselves how much they gain in performance, acceleration, and power by switching to this new gasoline. We make this suggestion:

Try a full tank of Golden Esso Extra. Then decide whether the improved performance is worth the small extra cost to you. One of our three brilliant gasolines is bound to be exactly right for your car and your gasoline dollar, and Esso Standard believes that no motorist should pay for another's power needs. Only you can tell whether it's Esso, Esso EXTRA, or Golden Esso Extra for your car!

Drive in today. Now three brilliant gasolines to choose from—

No one gasoline can economically satisfy the widening power needs of today's cars.

No two gasolines can give every motorist full value for his gasoline dollar.

Now THREE gasolines, one of which will give your car the right fuel... at the most economical price!

* New Golden Esso Extra is now available only at stations in this area — it will be rushed into surrounding areas just as soon as possible.
