PAGE SIX (Second Section)

Mail Fraud Perpetrators Usually Land In Prison

successfully prosecuted by Postal Inspection Service reported to delphia, Inspectors, according to a recent daily report to Chief Inspector DUBUQUE, IOWA David H. Stephens,

Postmaster General Arthur E. on this and other cases reported to Mr. Stephens in a recent typical day

Mr. Summerfield explained that he did this to give "some idea of work that dies behind the cold sta- way of vending machine income to tal inspectors day in and day out." then made no effort to deliver ma- fectionate, lonely.

The Postmaster General recalled chines as promised. that a recent Post Office Department release showed a record 6.- threatened in one district, the 852 arrests caused by inspectors during the 1956 fiscal year closed that local and State authorities June 30, 1956.

These arrests, he explained, were the result of 110,526 investigations during the year by 950 inspectors over the nation. During the time viction of the swinders. they were making these investigations, the inspectors also made 50,-408 audit inspections of post offices, kept track of his activities after his release, which contered in from the ailing and elderly was typical day's activity in the Postal Washington, Baltimore and Phila-

> DUBUQUE, IOWA Leo Peter Reistroffer was sen-

When criminal

In Philadelphia, inspectors caused his arrest. His pockets were full tenced to five years in prison on mail boxes containing checks. LOS ANGELES, CALIF, by inspectors and charged again with mail theft, Inspectors, notified of his departure from Atlanta

Penitentiary several weeks ago,

As the National Advanced Vend-She has a long criminal record, ing Machine Company, he and six associates (also sentenced to prison including a conviction on similar the amazing amount and variety of terms) promised anything in the charges in 1939.

She advertised in a lovelorn coltistics on the operations of our pos- coax buyers to sign contracts, and umn as a "Widow, fun-loving, af-

Henry Copple, 86. complained to postal inspectors that he respondprosecution ed to this ad, and after some correspondence, he proposed marswindlers moved to another, so riage and was accepted.

Then, after advancing $3.000 to were helpless to stop the racket. his "fiancee," he said he heard no When the situation was brought more from her. Evidence has been to attention of inspectors, prompt presentel by inspectors to the U.S. investigation led to arrest and con- Attorney at Los Angeles for prosecution of Mrs. Nietupski, PHILADELPHIA, PA

Edward J. Osenbrug, sentenced Many designs of Persian rugs to prison terms six times since 1937 are imitations of formal gardens The following are highlights of a for theft of mail, has been caught in ancient Iran.

THE-WATNESVILLE MOUNTAINEER .

of stolen letters from residents'

WAYNESVILLE CHEERLEADERS, "guarded" wards, Linda Ellinehart, Nancy Noland, Henry by mountaineer Dan Sayer behind the chin foli-Jenkins, and Linda Jones. age, are (from left) Arbadella Turner, Kyle Ed-(Mountaineer Photo).

Monday Afternoon, October 15, 1956

Students Get Close Look Of Government In Action

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON --- "Appointment in Washington." a new program of- the idea of fall and mid-year threeproject, is being promoted by the city fathers for touring high school students,

"We're attempting to sell school principals, teachers and parents on emic term is almost over.

fering a close-up of government in day tours." a GNCC official told action as a unique educational me. "We've supplied advance material already to some 15,000 high schools. Buses and airlines and working with us. The plan ought to be a great success. Ninety per The new project, modeled on a cent of the educators are in favor pilot operation successfully work- of it." ed out last spring, is directed es- In January Congress will be in pecially to junior and senior high session, and members from the school undergraduates who would students' home districts will be askbe encouraged to visit their na- ed to show them through the Capition's capital during the fall and tol building to let them "get the mid-semester seasons. Material feel" of history in the making by gained from their first-hand experi- sitting in the wells of the House ences and interviews with top and Senate, agency heads could be used for This "extension of the classroom term papers and classroom discus- to Washington" has been long. sought by teachers, civic leaders The Greater National Capital and students themselves,

Committee, which arranged govern- Secretary of the Treasury George ment orientation tours, with 10 Humphrey, who participated in top cabinet officials setting aside last spring's program, (says that specific days to meet the groups "giving these young visitors a and guide them on tours through broader insight into the conduct of their amoncies, says most of the public affairs here in the nation's half-million students who cram capital will pay large and better the city each spring are seniors citizenship - dividends in years to about to graduate and whose acad-l come."

