widening prohibitive, Town Manager Ferguson said. The new route will swerve off the present street at about a 30-degree angle just back of the Garrett Furniture Store, in a long sweeping curve staying about 330 feet from Main Street. After crossing Howell Street and Shelton Branch, the route turns back into Main Street near the intersection of Main and Assembly Streets.

Ferguson said he did not know when the town could get to all the projects, as it was a matter of getting some right-of-ways cleared first. The right-of-ways seemed cleared for the Pigeon-East Street project.

The town manager pointed out that when the entire project is completed, that traffic can turn off Main Street at Assembly and go the back street all the way to the Cemetery. He felt this would relieve Main Street of a lot of heavy traffic, and at the same time provide hundreds of additional parking spaces along the route.

were planted this year by 1,876 producers.

Another 121 farmers did not use their '56 allotments, representing a total of 37.41 acres.

Burley tobacco for the state, at an estimated production of 18,620,000 pounds, is the same as that produced in 1955 and about the same as the ten-year average. The current burley yield is placed at 1,900 pounds per acre or 100 pounds above the level expected a month ago.

For the United States, total flue-cured tobacco production is estimated at 1,384,450,000 pounds. This is 6.7 per cent less than the crop for last year but about 9 per cent larger than the ten-year average. The nation's burley crop is placed at 496,113,000 pounds or 5.6 per cent more than was produced last year.

of a high wind blowing at the time.

Total damage amounted to three and a half acres of timber.

One of the landowners, Mr. Carver, told Mr. Caldwell the fire started under an oak tree, and expressed the belief that it was caused by a cigarette discarded by a squirrel hunter in the area.

Mr. Caldwell cautioned county residents that woodlands are very dry and urged extreme caution when using fire out of doors—especially when the wind is blowing.

The fire warden also expressed his appreciation for the public's cooperation in the past.

"I'd like to reverse the charge on this call; she did all the talking."

Washington Takes Look At New Chinese Envoy

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON—The new Chinese Ambassador and Mrs. Hollington Tong, like most of the envoys of foreign countries who have arrived here only recently, are eager to acquaint American people with the traditions and customs of their lands.

"Holly" Tong, as the former newspaperman-diplomat is called by many of his colleagues and Americans who have met him in earlier years, is being described as the "best press-agent for his country ever to come to the United States." Sally Tong, his tiny, energetic, quick-witted wife, has written a booklet on "Old Chinese Marriage Customs," which she distributes among her friends. She has also written articles for local newspapers on Chinese feast days.

At their first large reception, to mark the 45th anniversary of the founding of the Republic of China, they hung the embassy with gaily colored Chinese lanterns and draped the wide veranda with banners of red and gold. The Chinese call this celebration the "double ten" because the founding on the 10th day of the 10th month of 1911.

The Tongs invited some 1,000 top Washingtonians to join them in the festivities at Twin Oaks, this beautiful, park-surrounded, residence in the heart of the Capital. The estate, formerly the home of telephone-inventor Alexander Graham Bell, was purchased several years ago by the Chinese government. For this event the ambassador was nattily dressed in a cutaway, starched wing collar and ascot cravat, attire seldom seen these days at capital shindigs. Mrs. Tong wore a silken, high-collared, sheath-like Chinese robe and beautiful earrings of jade.

It can be expected there will be much more gala wingding to follow by the party-loving Tongs, who next year celebrate their golden wedding anniversary and who admit their own marriage was not too much bound by the traditions of which Sally writes in her enchanting booklet.

The Chinese love their festivals, and party-goers here are looking forward to some interesting shindigs from the new hosts. On the second floor of the embassy residence, Mrs. Tong has an exquisite collection of Japanese dolls, most of which are dressed in the richly exquisite costumes of the famed Kabuki dancers of the Land of the Cherry Blossoms.

Schools Boost Sales

WEST POINT, Miss. (AP)—Supt. B. D. McCallister of West Point's city schools says a survey in Mississippi shows that retail sales are highest in cities with better schools.

All other factors being equal, he said, cities with better schools have up to 22 per cent more retail business than those with poor schools. He said education increases individual productive capacity which in turn boosts living standards and purchasing power.

Benefit Supper Is Set By Allen's Creek CDP

New Task-Force 57 Chevrolet Trucks!

They "flattened" Yukon mountains with the most modern truck V8's of all!

Rated G.V.W. of these payload-carrying heavyweights goes all the way up to 32,000 pounds!

New V8-powered '57 Chevrolet trucks, heavily loaded, made one of the world's toughest roads look easy! In a straight-through test run, they rolled over the famous ALCAN Highway to Alaska—in less than 45 hours (normally a 72-hour run). Here's proof-in-action of power that'll handle your toughest jobs—and keep coming back for more!

Whatever your job, there's an Alcan-proved Chevrolet Task-Force truck ready right now to save you time and money!

Six new Task-Force huskies made the run. And six ultra-modern Chevy engines proved their power and performance—with gas mileage up to 18.17 miles per gallon! Two of the engines were not stopped once, and they hummed along at peak efficiency the entire 1,520 miles!

Chevy's big V8's—including the new 283-cu.-in. Super Taskmaster—turned in top performance jobs. They hauled typical loads up and down towering grades and through washouts that sucked wheels into hub-deep mud. They roared on through miles of heavy dust that narrowed visibility to a few hundred feet. And in spite of the varying altitudes and temperatures, not a single truck was forced to drop out or turn back! Stop by and see them soon!

Alcan run supervised, certified by the AAA.

Proved on the Alcan Highway
Champs of every weight class!
