Streets Getting Longer
CHICAGO (AP)—Street names are getting longer.

A survey of 971 typical street names has been made to determine what is happening to street signs and their designs.

Today's average street name has almost seven letters, but the average is held down by such old-time favorites as Oak, King, Queen, Walter, River, High, East, West, North and South.

The higher average is due to the suburbanite's desire for a quaint or exclusive sounding street like Wyldhaven, Frost Woods, Briar Cliff, Trestle and Magnolia.

For '57 Styled long and low —with lots of GO!

(Try the instant response of Buick's New Dynaflo*)

We'll admit it quite frankly. "New" is a word that's used a lot. But seldom has it meant so much that's fresh and different and better than before—as here in the newest Buick yet.

Take the new styling, because that's obvious at a glance. To get it so sweepingly low, the engineers started from the bottom, with a brand-new type of chassis.

It's an ingenious "nested" chassis that reduced car height as much as 3.4 inches, giving new lowness and raciness—without reducing road clearance or room.

It's a massive I-beam, X-frame chassis that's stronger and sturdier—and permits a new low center of gravity for far surer, far safer roadability.

That's the picture on style, beauty and brawn in every '57 Buick.

But no such picture can give you the feel of this new instant go.

Only when you take the wheel can you appreciate the new era of motor-ing pleasure and ease and safety brought about by Buick's new power-pitch response.

It's instant response—response set off by the hair-trigger action of a new 364-cubic-inch engine and the full-range flexibility of a new Variable Pitch Dynaflo.

It's response so eager, this Buick seems to anticipate your every command. Power flashes to the rear wheels so quickly and smoothly in "Drive," that the need for "Low" has virtually been eliminated. Even Dynaflo's famous switch of the pitch is seldom needed.

Come try it. Come see and feel the tremendous difference the newest Buick yet can make in your driving enjoyment.

*New Advanced Variable Pitch Dynaflo is the only Dynaflo Buick builds today. It is standard on Roadmaster, Super and Century—optional at modest extra cost on the Special.
