

South Clyde CDP Meeting Set For Monday Evening

By MRS. KYLE LINDSEY
Community Reporter

The South Clyde CDP will hold their regular meeting at the Community Center Monday night. William Osborne, chairman, will be in charge.

The Clyde Lions will sponsor a ham supper at the school cafeteria, December 14, 5 to 7 p.m. Proceeds will go to the athletic association.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Limbo and children have moved into their new home on the Cathey Cove Road.

Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Sutton have recently moved in South Clyde.

Miss Violet Lindsey, a student at Brevard College, is a patient at the Haywood County Hospital.

Miss Ensley Has Role In Woman's College Play

Doris Ann Ensley of Lake Junaluska has one of the supporting roles in The Theatre of Woman's College production of "The Women" to be given at Woman's College of UNC from December 6-8 at 8 p.m.

Miss Ensley plays the part of Countess de Lage in Claire Boothe's satire on modern society women.

Miss Ensley is a senior at WC and is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Ensley, Jr. of Lake Junaluska.

Montana entered the Union on Nov. 8, 1889.

A NEW anti-tuberculosis vaccine, called R1Rv, is being developed in the laboratories of the tuberculosis research center of the North Carolina Sanatorium System located at Chapel Hill, and tested in animals along with four BCG vaccines which are used widely in countries where the death rate from TB is extremely high. The project which led to the development of the R1Rv vaccine was made possible by dollars contributed to the annual Christmas Seal Sales of tuberculosis associations throughout the country. In the top picture, a rabbit which has been vaccinated with one of the five vaccines being tested, and later given live TB germs, is getting its regular X-ray. In the picture on the left, a guinea pig is receiving its R-Rv vaccination. On the right, Mae Vandiviere (right), director of laboratories and research at the Chapel Hill Center, is shown discussing X-rays of rabbits with a physician. According to Vandiviere, the strongest of the BCG vaccines did not give as much protection to the animals tested as the new R1Rv vaccine did.

'War And Peace' Brings To Screen Outstanding Novel

That Leo Tolstoy's "War and Peace" is the greatest novel ever written is not a slogan thought up by Hollywood but is the scholarly judgment of colleges and universities where literature students reverently devote weeks of concentrated, detailed study to the sweep of the book's historical narrative, the humanness of its varied characters and the depths of its philosophical conclusions.

Paramount's screen version, which opens Sunday at the Strand Theatre, will be a memorable event for the many readers who have studied "War and Peace" in college. Already scholars and students who have long regarded the book as the ultimate achievement in the field of the novel are hailing its brilliant screen adaptation.

Although "War and Peace" has long been in public domain, no one dared to film its complex, many-faceted story. But what has been regarded as an impossible task has at last been achieved in a monumental film produced by Dino DeLaurentis.

Fines Creek School Peak-A-Views

By JOAN DAVIS and FRANCES RECTOR

A donkey ball game was played at FCHS December 3. It was funnier than a circus and wilder than a rodeo!

Members of the girls basketball team look very attractive in the new uniforms they received this week.

The Schoolmasters Club held its meeting in the Fines Creek Cafeteria Monday night. Supper was served by members of the Beta Club and the cooks. The program consisted of music by the Glee Club.

The juniors were well pleased with their class rings which they received this week.

Report cards were issued to the students of FCHS this week. Some of the students seemed to have improved during this grading period.

The basketball teams played Waynesville Tuesday night. The boys' score was: Fines Creek 33, Waynesville 55. The girls score was: Fines Creek 23, Waynesville 25.

Stevenson Will Not Run Again

WASHINGTON (AP)—Adlai E. Stevenson's announcement he will not seek a third chance at the presidency opened the way today to a scramble for the Democratic nomination in 1960.

"Stevenson, defeated by President Eisenhower by about 10 million votes last month, said in a statement yesterday: "I will not run again for the presidency." He said he will resume private law practice in Chicago in January.

The twice-defeated Democratic candidate said his interest in the party will "continue undiminished." He said he had accepted membership on an advisory group being set up by the Democratic National Committee to counsel on a party legislative program.

Stevenson's vice-presidential running mate, Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee, was asked if he too might be in a mood to remove himself from consideration for the 1960 presidential nomination. He replied: "I am only in the mood to be the best senator here that I know how to be."

Kefauver's friends expect him to bid again for the top nomination in 1960.

Just A Bottle Hunter

ST. JAMES, Minn. (AP)—Game Warden Phil Ham, piloting his plane over pheasant country, noticed a car stop several times. On each occasion the driver hurried into the ditch and back to the car.

Things looked suspicious. Ham radioed ground wardens and directed their cars into St. James where they halted the mysterious hunter.

The car contained no pheasants—not even a gun.

"I was out hunting up enough beer bottles in the ditches to fill up my case," said the frightened driver.

Odd Pair

MILWAUKEE (AP)—A burglar smashed the display window of a shoe store during the night and made off with a pair of shoes—one black and the other brown.

Just For Practice
JERSEYVILLE, Ill. (AP)—Warren H. Schoenweis killed a Canadian goose during a pre-season hunt. He laid out $25 and costs assessed by Justice A. Thatcher.
