Tuesday, at the hearing, said "Zoning offers protection to real estate values. Zoning creates three zones—residential, business and industrial."

"No existing building will be involved in the ordinance—zoning only applies after adoption of law. In the residential zone, only residences and similar things would be in the area—not even a motel." Wilson went into the technical detail how the ordinance can be changed, by the board of adjustment, plus the board of aldermen holding a public hearing; after due public notice has been given.

The general business area designed on the map would be along Main Street from the Presbyterian church to the Railroad, down Brown Avenue to Carolina, and up Church and Richmond for one block. Also at the corner of Hyatt Creek road and Smathers Street and at Five Points. The industrial area would be along the railroad, with all the remainder of the town being residential.

The business district was defined as being an area devoted to retail and wholesale trade and services. The industrial would be a processing or manufacturing operation. For the residential area, the ordinance as now written, would permit "home shops" in basements or room of a resident.

The zoning commission has been at work on the program for several months.

The program was started at the suggestion of the finer Carolina Committee of Hazelwood, and Mr. Wilson was brought in as a consultant on the study. Various surveys have been made of the town—a Land Use Survey—in order to determine the average depth of front yards, and such data for the use of the committee in making their study.

Members of the commission are: C. N. Allen, chairman, George Summerrow, E. H. Oliver, E. A. Williamson, and Earl Robinson.

ready been ordered for flue-cured leaf.

In a word of advice to Haywood County producers who have not already sold their burley, the county agent urged that the growers obtain information on both the government support price and yesterday's averages before selling their tobacco.

He explained that these market reports show yesterday's averages paid on all government grades throughout the burley belt.

These sheets, he added, are available to producers at all tobacco markets and often can be found at the scales.

Highlanders' Board Meeting Slated Monday

A special meeting of the board of directors of Western North Carolina Highlanders, Inc., will be held at The Manor in Asheville at 11 a.m. Monday, it has been announced by Mrs. Edith Alley Empson of Waynesville, secretary of the organization.

The program will include: A discussion of the "100-Free-Vacations" project by George Vogel of the Colgate-Palmolive Co., New York; installation of new officers and members-at-large on the executive committee and board of directors, and completion of unfinished business carried over from the October 26 meeting—including program plans and projects for 1957. John Parris of Sylva, president of the WNC Highlanders, will be in charge of the meeting.

A group of property owners from the Birch Street area appeared at the hearing and cited their objections to the area being zoned as a business district. They suggested that all the area west of the intersection of Birch Street and the Southern Railway spur, and south of Clyde Street to the western city limits be termed as a residential zone.

Another request was made that the business zone proposed on North Main Street be extended along the southeast side of that street between the intersections of Fiberville Road and Short Street.

There was also a request that all of the B. J. Sledge residential property on Church Street be excluded from the proposed business zone.

Another request was registered that the George Johnson Property facing on Pisgah Drive and south of Johnson Drive be included in the proposed adjoining neighborhood business zone.

The Planning Board will hold their December meeting on Monday, the 17th, and further consideration will be given to the proposed ordinance in the light of the objections and requests expressed at the Wednesday meeting.

Smart Student

NORMAN, Okla. (AP)—A used car dealer here advertised in the University of Oklahoma student newspaper. The ad had a coupon "good for $10 for any used car on our lot."

The next day a student showed up with 150 coupons and demanded a $1,500 car free.

He didn't get the car.

L. L. Lyda of the Waynesville Lions will then introduce the blind guests, one of whom will be Judge Sam Cathey of Asheville, who was named last year as the most outstanding handicapped person in the U. S.

Next on the program will be additional entertainment by the Prison Camp Quartet of Hazelwood and the Duckett Quartet of Allens Creek, and dances by the Edge Brothers of Clyde. The program will then be concluded with the presentation of gifts, fruit and food baskets, and toys for the children.

The Waynesville Lions will be in charge of the program, the Canton Lions will be in charge of gifts and food baskets, the Clyde Lions will be in charge of refreshments, the Pigeon Valley Lions will be in charge of invitations, and the Hazelwood Lions will be in charge of decorations and other arrangements at the school cafeteria. Approximately 60 visually handicapped persons are expected at the party.

MORE ABOUT Postal Gains

While the Washington information covers postal operations on the national basis, the local postmaster said he hopes to supplement this service with similar periodic announcements on the local situation, so that it may be developed as one of the useful criteria of business activity and general economy in this community.

Meanwhile, in his report on national operations and receipts, Mr. Stans noted postal receipts for all 37,449 post offices in the nation, including the local office, for the period between June 30 and October 19, were $712.3 million. This was an increase of $38.8 million over the same period of the last fiscal year, representing a 5.8 per cent boost.

tilized his fields with Royster 4-8-10 fertilizer.

A. W. Ferguson, manager of the county ASC office, said Mr. Ross' burley allotment of two acres is one of the biggest in the county.

Mr. Ross also has two brothers—Roy, Jr. and Brown—who are prominent burley producers in the Jonathan Creek community.

Only nine cents below Mr. Ross' average was the $65.25 figure reported by another Jonathan Creek farmer—A. L. Garnett, who sold 1,114 pounds of tobacco at Dixie No. 1 warehouse Monday. Mr. Garnett said he sold 134 pounds of tips for 65 cents, 356 pounds of leaf for 65 cents, 392 pounds of lugs for 66 cents, and 232 pounds of flyings for 65 cents. His total receipts were $728.02.

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—Elden H. Moss was scheduled to come to trial on a negligent homicide charge in the death of a motorist. The day before the trial was to start, however, Moss was killed in a highway accident.

Refuge For Wild Life

SAN BERNARDINO, Calif. (AP)—Things were getting a little too wild in the Warm Creek Wildlife Refuge.

Obed E. Smelser was leading a group of wildlife enthusiasts through the refuge and noticed a thriving green leaved bush about 12 feet high. Sheriff's narcotics officers were called and they confirmed Smelser's suspicions. It was a big marijuana plant.

AID FOR SNOWBOUND MAIL TRUCK

THE FAMOUS POST OFFICE DEPARTMENT slogan that "neither rain nor snow... can stay these couriers from the swift completion of their appointed rounds" is challenged by heavy drifts some 10 miles west of Jamestown, N. Y. However, a plough tractor has come to the rescue and clears a path for the snowbound mail truck. (International)
