Away In A Manger

The Stable of Bethlehem did not in any way resemble the airy portico—complete with plaster of paris animals and adoring shepherds—so dear to the heart of modern Christendom.
 With comfort increasing throughout the western world, the poverty of the Nativity scene simultaneously startles and fascinates us—as perhaps Matthew, the publican, was impressed by the story of the Wise Men; and St. Luke, who had been a ship's doctor and probably knew very little about shepherds, was charmed by the shepherds abiding in the field.
 There was no room in the inn that night, so Jesus was born in a stable; a place of shelter hewn into a rocky ledge of the Judean countryside: It was cold and dark and damp, and Judean travelers— frequently 'put up' in such caves—welcomed rather than disdained joint tenancy with beasts because the breath of the cattle and the heat of their bodies provided a little warmth, while the guests inside the inn had no heat at all.
 The cave, which was the birthplace of the Saviour, is now a grotto beneath Bethlehem's Church of the Nativity; and though fascinated by the simplicity of the original Nativity scene, Christianity has been unwilling to maintain its poverty and has covered the entire surface with costly ornamentation.
 The first attempt to manufacture optical glass in the United States was in 1889, but it wasn't until 1915 that fine optical glass was made here in quantity.

Mrs. Henrietta Love von Westphalen of New York City, is expected to arrive Monday to spend Christmas with her mother, Mrs. Hugh Love.

Use of water for all purposes in the United States is expected to double in the next 25 years.

Fred Love of Raleigh arrived this week to spend Christmas with his mother, Mrs. Hugh Love.

Dr. Mary Michal has arrived this week to spend the holidays at her home here.
