GOLDEN GLEAMS

Let a man keep the law—any law—and his way will be strewn with satisfaction.—Emerson.

Fortunes will continue to be made in this republic and the man or woman who is saving money is apt to be on top of the financial heap.

Good times will not return to any individual without some hard work. Prosperity doesn't come out of the air like a rabbit from a magician's hat.

When an individual offers to sell you something, whether goods or services for nothing, the prospect is that you will pay heavily.

If the American people will attend to the things that need attention in this country they won't have much time to give to reforming other countries.

The United States exists for the general welfare of the people of this nation and when it ceases to function in their behalf then the sooner it is checked out the better.

If all the political dope was spread out on one table and a man was crazy enough to read it all he wouldn't know much more when he finished than when he started.

When shipbuilders make 34 per cent on warships is it not natural for them to support the "keep the government out of competition with private industry" propaganda?

The advertiser cannot hope to succeed unless he tells the truth about his goods. The Duplin Times cannot hope to succeed unless advertising in its columns brings results.

A DEMOCRATIC KING

It is asking too much, probably, to expect Americans to be interested in the affairs of Siam or the recent abdication of King Prajadhipok. However, it may increase their intelligence to become acquainted with the reasons given by the diminutive king for his renunciation of his throne.

In June, 1932, the control of Siam was seized by a group, which demanded a constitutional monarchy. The King, "already in favor of this" consented to remain, with the understanding that a constitution would be established "so the people would have a right to have a voice in administration and in matters affecting the welfare of the people."

In the hope of "achieving stability" and effecting the change without "any upheaval" Prajadhipok held his office but, becoming convinced that the present regime had no intention of making the promised good, he quit. That he is sincere must be admitted when he asks for no "disturbance in the country on my behalf" and insists that "if any one should use my name in this connection it must be understood that it would be without my agreement, approval or support."

Here is a picture of constitutional democracy, at a low ebb in the opinion of many dictators and people, defended by a man, who was once a king with absolute powers!

BEGIN ADVERTISING NOW

Newspaper advertising enjoys the greatest patronage of any form of advertising. Huge corporations spend tremendous sums every year to inform and lead the buyer. The press delivers the goods and gets the bulk of the appropriation.

The situation in Duplin is the same as everywhere else. Here the newspaper is the best form of publicity, as well as the cheapest. Merchants who delay their advertising because they do not intend to outspend cigarette manufacturers are losing business through their failure.

It is better for every advertiser to begin modestly and expand than to begin extravagantly and lose his money, and most costly to his business, his faith in the power of advertising. If there is anything on the market today that has been put over without advertising we don't know what it is. Every merchant realizes this, even if he doesn't emulate the example of those who put things over.

HERE'S ONE ON LABOR

Here's what might be called a new one on labor! Eight hundred workers of the Milchen Shoe Company, hearing of wage cuts in other shoe centers, wanted to cooperate with the management by taking a voluntary cut. Just as the vote was about to be taken in comes Nathan Brindis, principal owner, to say that wage cuts are unwarranted, that he had just received a large order and that he hoped to give them a ten per cent increase in pay soon. Now, boys and girls, we do not know Mr. Brindis, but if the United States had about a half million employers like him the depression would be so far past that you'd have to look in a history to find out when it happened.

WHY PLANT A GARDEN

The number of good citizens in Duplin who will hopefully undertake the attempt to make two vegetables grow where one blade of grass grew in the garden are optimistic souls, or our experience has been signally unsuccessful.

Some years ago we decided to grow fresh vegetables in the old back yard. We prepared the soil and purchased such utensils as seemed necessary after conference with reputedly successful gardeners. In time we strained our back muscles with labor and our eyesight looking for the first tiny shoots to stick up their heads.

In the end, as best we could figure, our beans cost in excess of four cents each, our corn about a quarter an ear and other products in proportion. It would take about $2.50 worth of our vegetables, figured on a cost basis, to make a soup for two. As a money making venture the family vegetables were dismal failures, but, (here comes the main point) read the next paragraph.

Now, in spite of the facts suggested above we urge everybody to get busy with the back yard garden. If you are a good gardener you will make money and if you are a poor gardener you will learn a lot about nature and get some exercise that you probably need. If you are a man with a family you can interest the youngsters very much and this is a part of their education, to know nature and her ways and there is no better place for them to learn than in their own yard under the direction of their father.

The Liquor Traffic

Napoleon Thompson, Colonel

The success of this great liquor traffic depends upon debased manhood, and defrauded childhood. It will not cease to be a successful traffic until the lawmakers of this free American Government shall unite in denouncing the man who attempts to accumulate wealth by dealing out this poison and death to his neighbor.

It has been discussed in almost every court room and political gathering and is not yet decided whether or not Congress is justified in letting this ruinous system move on its mission.

Some politicians believe that the free sale of whiskey lightens the burden of tax; but what about the economic waste of the corn, wheat, sugar, and other food stuff that go into it? This is nothing more than knocking the crust from the lips of starving children.

Some of our legislators are alarmed over the money paid into other states where whiskey is allowed to be sold. But it should be a blessing to the great people of North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia and Tennessee, to let it go, and remain under the protection of the Federal Law.

Whiskey is a mortal enemy of peace and good order, a despoiler of men, a terror of women, a dark cloud that shadows the faces of children, a demon that has dug more graves and sent more souls to judgment than any of the pestilences that have wasted life since God sent those plagues to Egypt, and all of the wars since Joshua stood beyond Jericho.

Friends, what would it profit this or any other state to permit the free sale of strong drink? The wealth derived from it only profits a few, and often banishes with this man, because it is so shamefully contrary to the will of God. It does not promote good citizen'ship, peace, or Christianity. Again I ask in the spirit of love, what does it profit the nation as a whole?

Look at the host of defective born children to drunkards, blind, deaf, dumb, weak, and susceptible to disease. Today whiskey enters a humble home and strikes a crust from the lips of a starving child, and tomorrow levies tribute from the government itself. Today it strikes the rose of youth from a young mother's cheeks and tomorrow challenges this Republic in the halls of Congress.

Shall mothers know this and be silent? Shall fathers understand it and be indifferent? Shall ministers upon his gospel horse rush through this benighted land, unconscious? Shall our legislature leave this question lying on the ground, too weak to merit their support? I say no! A thousand times no! Let us in the name of God put an everlasting end to this dishonest money making; Let's murder it—and murders will be fewer. Let's stab it to the heart—and hearts no longer will be stabbed. Let's set fire to it and burn it up. Let's burn the last bottle and barrel—and fewer souls will be buried in Hell.

Napoleon Thompson.

When you put money in the ground in the form of plant food, you owe it to yourself to make sure you are getting nourishment most suitable for the particular crops you raise on the soil in which you grow them.

Two things you should require — integrity of the man who sells you and of the people who manufacture the guano.

It being difficult to sell fertilizers of average merit, you may sometime be offered a price above the market for your cotton or cotton seed meal as a round-about measure for cutting the price of fertilizers. Good fertilizers are worth the price we put on them. Good fertilizers are more economical to the buyer even at an apparently higher price.
