GRADUATION COMMENCEMENT

Primary and Grammar Grade

The commencement of B. F. Grady High School this year was one of the best yet. The first session was on Tuesday evening, March 26th, at which time the primary and Grammar Grade children gave a very interesting and beautiful opera.

Recitation Contest

On Friday evening, March 29th, the declamation and recitation contest was held. The following students took part in this: Misses Lyda Howard, Evelyn Keely, Hazel Outlaw, Christine Quinn and Nannie Mae Smith and Messrs. John Parker, R. L. Smith and Raymond Turner. All of these little speakers ran a very close race. However, a decision had to be made. The judges after much consideration decided that Miss Evelyn Keely was the best reciter and that Mr. J. D. Simmons was the best declaimer. These two young winners names were engraved on the W. G. Kornegay Recitation Cup and on the R. G. Maxwell Declamation cup respectively.

The judges for the contest were: Mrs. W. I. Gooding of Kenansville, Rev. Lawrence Keeler, pastor of the Presbyterian church in Pink Hill and Mr. Robert Grady of Seven Springs.

The community was very proud of its young speakers.

SENIOR PLAY

On Friday night, April 5th the senior class gave its annual play entitled "The Hen Pecked Hero." The crowded auditorium was in an uproar of laughter from the beginning of the play to the end. Everyone seemed to enjoy the amateurs' comical actions.

Those taking parts in the play were: Misses Ruby Maxwell, the heroine, Grace Holland, Neva Holt, Belle Simmons, Mattie Pearl Smith and Bertha Kelly and Messrs. Norman Smith, the hero, Jasper Bell, Rhuben Bishop, Garland Simmons and Eugene Howard.

Between the acts of the play the seniors entertained the audience with beautiful and rhythmic songs.

The Baccalaureate Sermon

Rev. Marshburn, Pastor of the Christian Church in Farmville, preached the baccalaureate sermon to the graduating class on Sunday afternoon, April 15th. A large audience filled the school auditorium to listen to the sermon on "Being a Good Sport."

Rev. Marshburn delivered a very beautiful and inspiring message from which it is hoped, that each senior, as well as the people of the community, will prosper.

A beautiful Quartette was rendered by Misses Beattie Kornegay, Tilghman, Victoria Kornegay, Sarah Carr.

Class Night Exercise

The Senior Class had its annual class night exercise on Thursday evening, April 18th.

The program this year was somewhat different from the usual ones. The stage, dressed in banquet style, was gorgeously decorated with pink and gold crepe paper, the colors being those of the senior class. Colorful streamers were strung artistically in the room. In the center of the wall was placed a beautiful yellow and gold "1935" representing the class. Burning candles on the beautifully arranged banquet table added much to the occasion. This beautiful scenery along with the girls, dressed in pink and gold evening dresses, and the boys in white trousers and dark coats, made a very colorful setting for "The Seniors' Radio Party."

That which was very effective, just after the radio announcer had opened the program, was the juniors', with burning tapers in their left hands, bringing a pretty pink and gold daisy chain from the rear of the auditorium to the foot of the stage and presenting it to the seniors. At this time all lights in the auditorium were out. To the Seniors the Juniors sang a song of presentation, and the seniors returned it with a song of acceptance.

The class mascots, Julia Scott and Grigg Dickson, dressed in class colors, entertained the radio audience with songs and dances. Five little dainty, colorful maids, Evelyn Kelly, Christine Quinn, Violet Kornegay, Ruth Bell and Ellen Outlaw, served to the seniors ice cream and cake, at intervals, during the broadcasting program.

Those having active parts were: Miss Mattie Pearl Smith, the salutatorian, Miss Belle Simmons, the testator, Miss Mildred Stroud, the poetess, Miss Grace Holland, the talented soloist, Mr. Bennie Tillman, the historian, Mr. Garland Simmons, the prophet, who had as his source of information Mr. John D. Grady, supposedly a Hindu for telling the future, and Mr. Eugene Howard, the valedictorian. Mr. Jasper Bell was the radio announcer. His loud and plain voice helped to make the program a success.

Beautiful songs in keeping with the occasion were sung by the seniors.

A large crowd attended this exercise, and everyone was exceedingly pleased.

The Graduation Exercise

On Friday evening, April 19th, Mr. Albert Coats, professor of law at the University of North Carolina, delivered the farewell address to the senior class. His information and advice were very helpful and interesting.

On this night, also, students who had made excellent records during the year were recognized. Mr. Eugene Howard, president of the Senior Class, received the "Grady medal," a scholarship one. This was given in honor of Judge Henry A. Grady and Mr. Jock Grady.

Members of the graduation class are: Misses Ruby Maxwell, Grace Holland, Neva Holt, Bertha Kelly, Belle Simmons, Mildred Stroud, Mattie Pearl Smith and Nannie Mae Smith and Messrs. Jasper Bell, Eugene Howard, Bennie Tillman, Garland Simmons, John Grady, Cleo Outlaw, Rhuben Bishop and Norman Smith.

Each of these received his diploma and left B. F. Grady auditorium with the titillation of making something of himself so as to make dear of B. F. Grady School proud.

Thoughts For The Home

"The Lips That Touch Liquor
Must Never Touch Mine"
By F. L. GOODMAN

For I trusted that he was waiting for me then.
Was the brightest and truest,
and noblest of men.
Your lips on my own when the printed "farewell,"
Had never been soiled by the "beverage of hell;"
But they came to me now with the Bacchus sign,
And the lips that touch liquor can never touch mine.

I think of the night in the garden alone,
When in whispers you told me your heart was my own,
That your love in the future should faithful be,
Unshared by another, only kept for me,
Oh! sweet to my soul is the memory still.

Of the lips that met mine, when they murmured "I will,"
But now to their pressure no more they incline,
For the lips that touch liquor can never touch mine.

Oh! John! how it crushed me when first on your face
The pen of the "Rum Fiend" had written "Disgrace,"
And turned me in silence and tears from that breath,
All poisoned and foul from the chalice of death;
It shattered the hopes I had treasured to last;

It darkened the future and clouded the past;
It shattered my idol, and ruined the shrine,
For the lips that touch liquor can never touch mine.

I loved you—oh, dearer than language can tell,
And you saw it, you proved it, you knew it too well,
But the man of my love was far other than he
Who now from the tap-room comes reeling to me.

In manhood and honor so noble and right,
His heart was so pure and his genius was bright,
And his soul was unstained, unpolluted by wine,
But the lips that touch liquor can never touch mine.

You promised reform, but I trusted in vain
Your pledge was made but to be broken again;
And the lover so false to his promises now,
Will not, as a husband be true to his vow.

The words must be spoken that bids you depart,
Through the effort to speak it should shatter my heart;
Though in silence, with blighted affection, I pine,
Yet the lips that touch liquor, can never touch mine.

If one spark in your bosom of virtue remain,
Can fan it with prayer till it kindle again;
Resolved, with "God helping" in future be
From wine and its follies unshackled and free;

And when you have conquered this foe of your soul,
In manhood and honor, beyond b's control,
This heart will again beat responsive to thine,
And the lips free from liquor be welcome to mine.

Then Continued At Barren Held At Burlington

By JOHN D. BERRY, Gen. Sec.

Raleigh, N. C., April 25.—The twenty-third annual convention of the North Carolina Barren Philathea Union will be held in Burlington May 3-4-5. The first session will be called to order at two o'clock Friday afternoon, in the Front Street Methodist Church, with A. E. Salsbery, Salisbury, State Barren President, and Mrs. K. Edwin Russell, Winston-Salem, State Philathea President in charge of the program. Rev. W. A. Cade, Pastor of the host church will conduct the opening devotion and exercise. E. J. Hentz of the Methodist Choir there will have charge of the musical program throughout the convention.

Following reports by the general secretary and the presidents of the Union, there will be a memorial service in honor of the deceased members of the Barren and Philathea classes of the State. It has been the custom of the convention for several years to send a design to Syracuse, N. Y., to be placed on the grave of Marshall A. Hudson, founder of the Barren-Philathea movement. The memorial address will be delivered by Lawrence J. Pace of Asheville, and the service will be in charge of Mrs. N. Buckner, former general secretary of the State organization.

On Friday night, Hon. Jake Nowell of Charlotte will deliver his address on Palestine. Barren and Philathea of Edgemont Baptist church of Durham will present a Barren-Philathea pageant, under the direction of O. A. Johnson, former State Barren President.

Spokane, Wash., is the headquarters of the Barren-Philathea Union. The convention is held at the Hotel Spokane, which is located just a few miles from Burlington. Bishop J. Kenneth Pahl of the Moravian Church will address the Convention at three o'clock Saturday afternoon.

The Convention will be honored with the presence of three World-Wide Barren-Philathea Union Presidents: Mr. Albert F. Lyons, Boston, the President of the Union, Miss Henrietta Heron, Washington, D. C., and Mr. Lawrence J. Pace, Asheville, N. C., former Presidents.

The annual Convention will take place at the Alhambra Hotel, Saturday evening at 7:00 o'clock, with Hon. Leo Carr, Solicitor of the tenth district, as toast-master. The principal speaker will be Dr. Frank P. Graham, President of the Greater University of North Carolina.

Dr. Gilbert T. Rowe, Duke University, will preach the annual Convention sermon Sunday at eleven o'clock, in the Front Street Methodist Church. The closing session of the convention will be held in the First Baptist Church Sunday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock, with Dr. H. Shelton Smith, Duke University, and Robert N. Simms, Raleigh, as the principal speakers. The Methodist Sunday School Orchestra from Thomasville will render several musical selections at this meeting, and the convention will close with a brief consecration service led by Miss Henrietta Heron, of the North Carolina Conventions, and has been a welcomed visitor here. She was President of the World Wide-Philathea Union.

Spokane, Wash., is the headquarters of the Barren-Philathea Union. The convention is held at the Hotel Spokane, which is located just a few miles from Burlington. Bishop J. Kenneth Pahl of the Moravian Church will address the Convention at three o'clock Saturday afternoon.

WITH OR WITHOUT DELUXE EQUIPMENT A FORD is always a FORD V-8

- EVERY FORD CAR HAS:
- the same, economical, 85 horsepower V-8 engine.
 - the same, new, Comfort-engineered Chassis.
 - 6.00 x 16" air-balloon tires and Safety Glass all 'round at no extra cost.

IMPORTANT FORD FEATURES COMMON TO ALL BODY-TYPES

- 45 horsepower, V-type, 8 cylinder engine with aluminum cylinder heads and dual, downdraft carburetor.
- 193-inch springbase for riding ease on a 112-inch chassis for handling ease.
- Torque-tube Drive.
- Front seat 30" wide . . . Ample luggage space in all models at no extra cost.
- Welded steel-spoke wheels, 4" rim.
- All-steel body welded into one piece.
- Big, positive brakes with 12" drums and more braking surface per pound of car weight than any other car under $1095.
- 4 double-acting hydraulic shock absorbers.
- 17 plate battery.
- 6.00 x 16" air-balloon tires.
- Safety Glass all 'round.

IT is common practice, nowadays, to find two quite different automobiles sold under the same name. This difference will run all the way from a difference in horsepower, chassis and body design to a difference in the number of cylinders in the engine. No such difference exists between one Ford V-8 and another. Ford builds only one size of automobile with the same V-8 engine on the same 112-inch chassis. The springbase of all Ford cars is 123 inches and all passengers ride centered—between the springs in the "Comfort Zone."

The only difference between a Ford V-8 and a Deluxe Ford V-8 is in equipment—not in engineering. . . And even here, two major items—Safety Glass all 'round and 6.00x16" air-balloon tires—are standard equipment on all Ford cars at no extra cost.

Therefore, when you are choosing your 1935 car, good judgment demands you check the list of features shown above. All of them are found on every Ford car built and without them no automobile can be considered a true 1935 value.
