Local Men To Attend Meeting Of Officials

Institute of Government Sessions in Chapel Hill June 10-11 — Bailey and Doughton to Speak — New Laws Interpreted — State Heads Take Part.

Numbers of city and county officials from this and surrounding counties are expected to attend the Institute of Government's sessions in Chapel Hill, June 10-11, for the discussion of common problems, interpretation of 1935 legislation and outlining of the new administrative procedure of the various federal agencies.

A busy and practical program has been arranged, featuring Senator Bailey, Congressman Doughton, Governor Ethinghaus, and a long line of State officials and federal administrators, and all indications point to a large attendance and a highly successful meeting.

A special feature is the expected appearance of Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt at the Tuesday afternoon session. The first lady is to make the Commencement address at the University that night, and North Carolina officials hope to have her as their guest in the afternoon.

Another aid to local officials will be the summaries of new laws affecting each office and of new Local Acts affecting each town and county which The Institute is preparing for distribution at this time.

The meeting will get under way with a buffet supper Monday evening, followed by the session on Federal Legislation and Agencies. The sessions Tuesday morning and afternoon, which will be separated by a joint luncheon, will be devoted to new State legislation.

Senator Bailey and Congressman Doughton will be heard at the Monday night session. The methods for allocating and administering North Carolina's share of the new $4,800,000,000 federal program of public works and work relief will be the central theme of this session.

Herman W. Bally, State Engineer for the P. W. A.; Mrs. Thomas W. O'Berry, Director of the N. Carolina E. R. A.; Major A. L. Fletcher, State Director of Re-employment, and the State heads of other federal agencies will outline the work, accomplishments, and procedure of their organizations for local officials at this meeting.

North Carolina's Congressional delegation will be presented at the joint luncheon of city, county, state, and federal officials Tuesday, which will be presided over by Governor Ethinghaus.

Lieutenant-Governor A. H. Graham and Speaker Robert Gray Johnson will preside over the sessions on State Legislation Tuesday. A number of State Department heads will be on hand to lead discussions and give opinions in person, headed by Attorney General A. A. F. Sewell; Chas. M. Johnson and W. E. Easterling of the Local Government Commission; Commissioner of Revenue A. J. Maxwell, and Highway Chairman Capus Wainick.

Clyde Erwin, State Superintendent of Public Instruction; N. E. Aylett, President of the Court Clerks Association; and L. S. Harris of the Motor Vehicle Bureau and Capt. Chas. Farmer of the Highway Patrol head the discussion leaders for the separate meeting of local officials.

500-Mile Classic Is Gruelling Test Of Tire Safety

Indianapolis, May 27th. — The sharp-toned roar of powerful motor cars is heard again at the Indianapolis Speedway, where preparations are now in full swing for the annual racing classic May 30. The cream of America's race drivers are tuning up and testing their cars on the huge brick oval.

Tire engineers, working to make tires safer, are already in the pits — headed by J. E. Hale, development chief of the Firestone Company. These engineers obtain facts that are of tremendous importance to motorists. For 36,000 traffic deaths last year, and 7700 wrecks due to blowouts, prove that greater tire safety is America's vital need.

As the modern automobile has become more powerful tire engineers each year have made new improvements in tires, and many of these are based on facts obtained from the Speedway. For instance new rubber were developed to counteract heat. In fact the most effective means known today for preventing internal friction and heat — the patented gum-dipping process for dipping cord fabric in liquid rubber — proved its advantage at the Speedway.

The development engineers point out that speeds at the track have gone up each year, yet tire failures — bugaboo of the old days, — have become almost a thing of the past. In fact the drivers seldom make even a precautionary change — though this can be done without loss of time while a car is being refueled.

For the last 15 years the victor has used Firestone tires. These gruelling tests provide Firestone tire engineers with facts not obtainable from any other source and have contributed in a large measure to making Firestone tires stronger and more durable for the protection of the lives of millions who drive on America's boulevards and highways.

June Suggestions For Orchards and Gardens

Orchardists and vegetable growers consider June an important period in the cultivation and care of garden and fruit crops.

If a good yield is to be obtained insects and disease must be controlled, says M. E. Gardner, head of the horticultural department at State College.

Spraying and dusting are particularly important at this time of year, Gardner points out, since it is essential to control insects and diseases before they have time to develop.

The spraying or dusting should be done at the right time and with the proper materials. Apply them thoroughly to all parts of the plant.

Calendars showing the recommended spray mixtures for apple and peach trees, and the time to use them, may be obtained without cost from the agricultural editor at State College, Raleigh.

Frequent cultivation of the soil will keep down grass and weeds, which rob the soil of moisture and food that should be available for the crops. But do not cultivate too deeply, Gardner warns, so deep cultivation often injures the plant roots.

In June, he adds, succession planting may be made of sweet corn, snap beans, and cowpeas. Tomatoes seed may be planted for a late crop.

Pleasanting the housewife is a big factor in the sale of fruits and vegetables, he says. A clean, well prepared product of standard grade will do much to solve the marketing problem.

Chatham County farmers report heavy yields of hay from their cutting of the alfalfa fields.
