

Cinema Offerings Reach Top In Star Pictures At The Duplin Next Week; Roberta Opens

Acclaimed as the perfect musical comedy, "Roberta" comes to the screen at the Duplin Theatre next Monday and Tuesday from RKO-Radio as a three-star attraction with Irene Dunne, Fred Astaire and Ginger Rogers.

With Miss Dunne singing Jerome Kern song hits, including the famous "Smoke Gets In Your Eyes" and Astaire and Miss Rogers whirling through "Roberta's" dazzling dance routines said to outshine those of "The Gay Divorcee" the picture also presents a brilliant array of feminine fashions displayed by a bevy of America's most beautiful girls.

Double romance features the story, which centers about the hilarious situation of an All-American football player, inheriting a gown shop in Paris. Miss Dunne and Randolph Scott carry the principal heart interest, with Astaire and Miss Rogers mixing badinage and gay comedy with love palpitations.

As a stage attraction, "Roberta" was a smash hit on New York Broadway, paying more than 250 performances at the New Amsterdam Theatre. It subsequently hung up new attendance records in road showing.

"OUR LITTLE GIRL" Tomorrow and Saturday

Showing tomorrow and Saturday only is Shirley Temple in "Our Little Girl." The usual Western Picture will not be shown Saturday.

The management of the Duplin Theatre, Warsaw, announced today that a charge will be made for all children on those two days.

made for this show. Admission will be the usual 10c and 25c.

It's laugh day next week with the irrepressible Charlie Ruggles and the effervescent Mary Boland capering across the screen in "People Will Talk." Paramounts new and highly diverting comedy of domestic manners, showing Wednesday only.

The two players who have become something of an institution in their good-natured marital disagreements appear to greater and funnier advantage than ever before. If you enjoyed them in "Ruggles of Red Gap" and "The Pursuit of Happiness," you'll roar at them in "People Will Talk."

This new film is the story of another suburban couple who have their disagreements. This disagreement, however, is planned at the start, when their daughter and son-in-law get into a squabble and threaten to divorce each other. Mary Boland and Charlie Ruggles, to show them how silly it all is, start a mock fight of their own.

The film comes to a climax at a wrestling match where Charlie, obsessed by his domestic affairs, proves to be an indifferent referee. There's a near riot and a fake kidnapping before things finally quiet down enough for the fadeout.

A unique story, cleverly turned, excellently acted, beautifully staged—that is "Behold My Wife," Sylvia Sidney's new starring picture which shows next Thursday only.

Miss Sidney, who has played a variety of nationalities in her screen career, is this time cast as an Indian maiden and she brings all the charm, all the petite wisdom to the role that audiences have come to expect of her. She is more than capably supported by Gene Raymond who plays opposite her. The cast includes those two favorites, H. B. Warner and Laura Hope Crews, in addition to Juliette Compton, Monroe Owsley and Charlotte Granville, among others.

Raymond is cast as a wealthy son of wealthy parents, madly in love with a girl from what his family regards as a "lower social stratum." Their efforts to break up the affair drive the girl to suicide and Raymond, broken-hearted but infuriated, slams out of his home vowing vengeance.

Numbered by his tragedy, he drives his car grimly across the country to crash it, finally, in New Mexico. There he meets Tonita, the Indian girl played by Miss Sidney. An idea strikes him—what better way to revenge himself on his family than to marry her—to bring this "savage" back to their exclusive salon as his wife.

Into the picture "The Devil Is A Woman", a master craftsman has been at work. Into this picture, the latest which he and Mariene Dietrich have played together and which shows next Friday only, Josef Von Sternberg has thrown all the vigor, creative imagination and capability of his direction.

With Miss Dietrich acting the role of a heartless enchantress, "The Devil Is A Woman" tells a complex, true-to-life story of men and women and their loves, with amazing vigor, candor and simplicity.

"The Defco Hospital for Diarrhoea Quintuplets," which is equipped with an Electrolux Refrigerator.

ONE YEAR AGO ELECTROLUX was rushed to the QUINTUPLETS

Since then, this most modern of refrigerators has been faithfully guarding their health with dependable food protection.

ON May 28, 1934, the world was electrified by a message flashed from the remote Canadian village of Corbeil. Quintuplets were born... and living... for the first recorded time.

Though their birthplace was almost beyond the reach of civilization, these babies have received during the past year the utterly dependable food protection that only modern automatic refrigeration can provide. Forty-eight hours after orders were given in New York, a New Air-Cooled Electrolux, operated with kerosene, was at work cooling the human milk rushed from Toronto and Montreal to feed these newborn babes.

This kerosene-operated Electrolux is the same nationally advertised refrigerator that is already serving more than half a million modern American families. In the cities it is run by a tiny gas flame... in the country, beyond the gas mains, by a wickless glow-type kerosene burner. Listed at the left are some of the vital advantages of this most modern of refrigerators.
