

Boles And Gaynor Star In The Feature Attractions At The Duplin Theatre Next Week

You've been waiting for them and now they are here. John Boles and Jean Muir in "Orchids To You" and Janet Gaynor and Henry Fonda in "The Farmer Takes A Wife" feature the week's program at the Duplin Theatre.

Orchids To You
A brilliant cast, sparkling dialogue, and a remarkable story go to make up Fox Film's latest production, "Orchids To You," a powerful and unusual romantic drama with a theme completely out of the beaten track, which opens Monday at the Duplin Theatre.

"Orchids To You" is absorbing in its universal appeal — nothing lightweight, nothing psychological — just an honest, human document that gripped every spectator in last night's audience; yet it is lightened with plenty of natural comedy.

The first film to glorify the American florist, "Orchids To You" deals with the financial and romantic troubles of a pretty florist, who, after building up a highly successful business of her own, finds herself in difficulties when her professional ethics prevent her from revealing the identity of a customer. The working out of the plot leads to a romance of a distinctive kind, as charming as it is unique, and certain to add vastly to the following of the principal players.

John Boles, who has the leading role, proves himself the most popular singing star of the screen today, by his grand performance. Jean Muir, distinctively fresh and charming, turns in the finest performance of her career; while Charles Butterworth's inimitable comedy portrayal furnishes most of the laughs in the picture and is perfectly suited to the part he plays.

The Wednesday attraction will deal with scientific sleuths who out-Sherlock Sherlock Holmes and who outfight desperadoes in "Men Without Names." With Fred MacMurray, Madge Evans, Lynne Overman and young David Holt heading the cast, "Men Without Names" is a dynamic, punch packed film based on adventures which really have happened.

The former Takes A Wife
Civilization marched westward over the turbulent Erie waterways in four-mile-an-hour boats and strong men hammered out an empire and held the love of beautiful women with their brawny fists.

That is the glamorous, action-filled picture of America in the roaring 1850's which Fox Film's "The Farmer Takes A Wife" brings on Thursday and Friday to the Duplin Theatre.

About the tender love story of Janet Gaynor and Henry Fonda, the stars of the picture, all of the excitement, humor, romance and near-tragedy of this never to be forgotten epoch centers.

Miss Gaynor is a girl of the Erie waterways, fascinated by the nomadic, gypsy-like existence. Fonda is a boy who works on the canals merely to earn enough money to buy the farm he has always wanted.

Although these two realize that there is this fundamental difference between them, they cannot help being drawn together by love. As the picture progresses, Fonda's fortunes prosper and he prepares to withdraw from the canal. But Miss Gaynor believes that he is running from Charles Bickford, the canal's bully, and his rival for her affection.

In a pounding, action-filled climax, Fonda proves his courage and his right to Miss Gaynor's love.

Walter D. Edmond's widely-read novel, "Home Haul," was the basis for both the stage play and the picture of "The Farmer Takes A Wife." In the supporting cast roles of the picture, which includes more than fifty speaking parts, are Bill Summerville, Andy Devine, Roger Imhof, Jane Withers and Margaret Hamilton.

Winfield Sheehan produced "The Farmer Takes A Wife," which was directed by Victor Fleming.

SELL AT HESTER'S Warehouse

CLARKTON, N. C.

"Where Tobacco Looks Good And Sells High"

All grades of tobacco are now very much in demand on the CLARKTON MARKET. The quality of tobacco now being offered for sale isn't near so good as last season, BUT YET? our daily average is as high and some days higher than it was the first week of last season.

Tobacco is really selling high in CLARKTON. Don't be fooled into the idea that the market that displays the most road signs and has the greatest number of trade men is selling tobacco higher than anyone else. It is your money that has to pay your fertilizer bills and all farming expenses.

Gentlemen, we try to conduct a sale in the best manner possible and on the most sound principle of all—"SELL TOBACCO ON ITS MERITS." We are not going to throw out any bait for you to grab. We think you will find that we try to work for your every interest at all times.

All the manufacturers and the biggest percentage of the independent companies have buyers on the CLARKTON MARKET. You know what that means. "Where there is competition tobacco sells good. Try the CLARKTON MARKET and see for yourself.
