Smuggling Guns to Ethiopia New Game

Rumrunning Adventurers Now Turn to Arms.

Paris. France.—Europe's gang-sters and international adventurers, who have found time on their hands ince bootlegging booze into Amer-ca became a dead industry, have discovered a new racket in gun-running into Ethiopia.

While the chancelleries are busy trying to find a solution to the quarrel between Benito Mussolini and the emperor of Ethiopia, Halle Selassi I, gunrunning racketeers are busy rushing into East Africa the munitions which may blaze when talking ceases.

With some 500,000 men to resist the might of Italy, and the need for airplanes, tanks and motorized artillery, the ruler of Ethiopia has sent emissaries to munition plants of Europe to try to obtain the equipment necessary to carry on war against the white invader of the kingdom founded, according to legend, by Solomon and the queen of Secret Orders Placed.

Owing to the ban on export of arms, the Ethlopians have not been able to buy enough war stocks, although the emissaries have offered gold from their fabled mines. Some secret orders have been passed and ships, under sealed instructions, have salled mysteriously from several ports in Europe down through the Suez canal and the Red sea.

Normally, they carry trinkets and western goods for the emperor's people, but in reality they have been leaded to the Plimsoll line with powder and arms.

The gunrunning racketeers are supplementing this traffic. Mostly Greeks, Germans, Armenians and other individuals of no defined nationality, they have spread their activity from the capitals of Europe to the shores of the Red sea and the inland frontiers of the emperor's kingdom.

Their agents throughout the western capitals are charged with the mission of buying all available rifles, shot-guns and revolvers and, if possible, machine guns. These are then shipped to the nearest port, where bartering goes on with the captains of vessels bound east of Suez, Racketeers Charter Ships.

The smugglers' agents offer big rewards to sea captains who are willing to use up available space in loading guns for the East African war. As, however, the number of vessels available on the regular routes is limited, the racketeers have been chartering vessels of their own, idle tramp steamers, yachts and sailing craft.

Crammed full to the decks with grenades and rifles and machine guns, they steer for the Red sea, unload their cargoes and rush them over the caravan routes by camel and mule pack to the frontiers of Ethlopia.

Here the Ethlopians, hungry for the guns which they need to defend their soil, are ready with precious gold-dust tled in cloth, which they pay to the gun traders.

Archer Kills Snake With Bow and Arrow

Fresno, Calif.-Spinners of fanciful rattlesnake yarns often wander further from the truth than fishermen, but Arthur H. Shipley, deputy county superintendent of schools, vouches for this one:

Shipley spied a 3-foot snake along the roadside one day. Anxious to get a set of rattles, he searched for something with which to kill the reptile. Clods of dirt served only to enrage the snake.

Finally be thought of the bow and arrow in the back of his

School Teacher Learns

She's Recorded as a Boy St. Chairsville, Ohio.—Bertha Offerdinger, a school teacher, learned that she had been officially recorded as a male for the 36 years of her life. The discovery was made when she applied for a passport and was surprised to find that she had been listed as a boy when her birth record was submitted in 1899 without a first name. An order of Probate first name. An order of Probate Judge Harry Albright was necessary to correct the error.

Famous Quintuplets Financially Independent.

Callander, Ont.-Through their physician, Dr. Allan Roy Dafoe, the Dionne quintuplets recently gave a message to the world. They said: "Thanks for all your help, and we want you to know we are now self supporting. We say this beizations helped us when we were not able to take care of ourselves. Now we are making enough money to meet all our needs and allow us to save some. We thought you would like to know."

HE STIRRED ST. PAUL

When Homer S. Cummings, United States attorney general, designated St. Paul as the "poison spot of crime" Wallace Jamie, twenty-seven, crime student, walked into St. Paul's public safety building and asked permission to hang around as a sideline spectator, to watch a police force in action. Jamie watched and worked with the knowledge he had obtained at the University of Chicago and Northwestern univer sity crime schools, and brought loto use a number of devices of his own invention. Through a moultor sys-tem be tapped all telephone wires in the public safety building and rigged up an instrument to record conversations of police officials. Inside of lamps and telephones he inserted microphones connected to his own office and recording machine. He established a close link between high officials of the police department and the crime element. The greatest shakeup to St. Paul's

The girl bables of Oliva and Elsire Dionne are not nearly as wealthy as many persons believe. They have $45,000 in bonds and cash, and contracts now in force probably will bring them another $50,000. In their-14 months of life the youngsters have spent a lot of their own money. How much, the doctor declined to say. The Canadian Red Cross paid for the nurses for a year and, with the Ontario government, helped out in various ways. In the last four months the children have paid all their own expenses—and expenses of quintuplets are large.

No figures have ever been given out, but salaries of the doctor and nurses probably total $450 a month. Other salaries, for an orderly, two maids and two guards, take perhaps $250 more. That total of $700 does not include upkeep of the hospital, which must be large, as all the staff, but the doctor, have their meals there. Everything the ba-bles eat and drink is of the best and their food bill is large.

In addition there are many extras which all go to make $1,000 a conservative estimate of the bables' monthly expenditure.

One of their chief assets is their ome, valued at $20,000. The small Dafoe hospital that was opened a year ago has been enlarged to a 12-room building with three baths. The bables' $45,000 in bonds and cash has come from endorsements of products they use-milk, tomato juice and the like-and motion-picture and newspaper photograph
