

TAYLOR & MATTHEWS AND CRUTCHFIELDS

Crutchfield's Warehouse is being operated by Paul Taylor, Everette Matthews, Raymond Crutchfield and Gaither Crutchfield this season. This large commodious warehouse, modern in every respect, has a floor space of 50,000 square feet. It is equipped with every possible convenience from ice water fountains to comfortable rest rooms, and its skylights cast a mellow glow on tobacco that makes it look its best.

PAUL TAYLOR AND EVERETTE MATTHEWS come to the Whiteville tobacco market for their first season, but their background is one of years of experience as warehousemen. Paul comes from the rugged county of Stokes and Everette from Rockingham, both counties that are known all over the tobacco world, because of the fine tobacco grown there. Both migrated to Winston-Salem, North Carolina's tobacco center, early and during the past twenty-one years these men have become familiar with every phase of the tobacco game.

They are on the sale at Crutchfield's bidding on every grade, pushing the price up to the top, and while Paul Taylor is quiet and unassuming off sale he is one of the hardest working and most aggressive men ever to follow a sale and Everette Matthews makes a good running mate for Paul.

Kenansville School Opens

Kenansville School opened Monday morning at 9:00 A. M. with a large enrollment and all of the staff of new instructors in place and ready for service. Opening devotions were conducted by Rev. F. L. Goodman. Timely remarks were made by members of the school committee and School Superintendent Albert Dickson explained some of the methods used this year in the school work. He announced that the bus routes would remain the same until advice from the state inspector. Books for rent have not yet arrived and all pupils were urged to buy and use second hand books until the supply came. Mr. Dickson, pledged for himself and the other members of the faculty their best efforts to make the school the best possible, and asked for the cooperation of the parents in the attaining of this end.

A large number of the parents from both town and country were present for the school opening, and both parents and faculty feel encouraged and are ready to stand together for the good of the school.

Paris fears a war would check world business recovery.

150,000 Italian troops mass on Austrian border for "war."

Roosevelt names security board of three, with Winnant as chairman.

Italians warn British that sanctions would result in war.

Farley says New Deal fees raise only "dust storms."

Japan's army leaders bid soldiers shun politics.

President Roosevelt signs new Banking Law.

Kenansville Gives Rousing Reception To New Faculty

One of the biggest events of the year was a reception given by the patrons of the school to the members of the faculty of the Kenansville school last Monday evening at 6:30 in the Soup-Kitchen. A large representation of the people of Kenansville were present with overflowing baskets for the picnic lunch which was served to all with the faculty its special guests of honor.

The receiving line was formed on the front steps of the building and each learned who the other was. At the banquet table, Judge A. J. Blanton served as Toastmaster in a noble way. A series of short talks was given, in which all present had a chance to express themselves and speak for the good of the school. Members of the faculty were most favorably impressed with the warm spirit of reception shown them by the patrons of the school and the patrons assured Prof. Dickson and his staff that this was the spirit with which they were planning to support them throughout the year.

If the opening day can be taken as indicative of the year's work, we will have the best school in Kenansville that we have had in years.
