

"Buddy" Rogers Returns To Screen In "Old Man Rythm"

With a talented and zestful cast headed by Charles (Buddy) Rogers romping breezily through the comedy and romance of an entirely novel plot, RKO Radio's film musical, "Old Man Rythm," will provide light, wholly enjoyable entertainment at the Duplin Theatre Monday and Tuesday.

Its gray yarn is set against a collegiate background but breaks away from the usual dear-old-almamater pattern.

"Old Man Rythm" marks the return of Rogers to the screen. He portrays Johnny Roberts, a young college blade. Blindly, he overlooks Edith Warren (Barbara Kent) who really loves him, and loses his head over Marian Beecher (Grace Bradley), and alluring campus gold-digger.

When his father warns him against the money-chaser, Johnny claims his senior has stuck too close to business. He urges the staid business man to get out and taste life before he gives any advice on how to live and Robert's senior derides the dull routine of his office and enrolls as a college freshman.

Six new songs mark an innovation in film musical technique in that their witty lyrics are an integral part of the plot. The well-known Broadway composer, Lewis Gensler, has given every tune the lift and spirit that spurs popularity and Johnny Mercer has done an expert job with the lyrics.

The supporting cast which is composed of ace entertainers from the screen, radio, stage, vaudeville and night clubs, includes Dave Chasen, Eric Blore, Erik Rhodes, Betty Grable, Evelyn Poe, Johnny Mercer, John Arledge, Joy Hodges, Douglas Fowley, Bill Carey and Sonny Lamont.

Director Edward Ludwig has maneuvered the story to get a perfect balance of romance, comedy and novelty.

Sig Herzog and Ernest S. Pagano have capably adapted the original story by Gensler, Don Hartman, and Herzog to the screen.

Zion Myers, who aided in producing "Roberta" and "The Gay Divorcee," supervised.

School Officials Favor Conference

(Continued from Sport Page) Involved in any particular game. The formation of a conference would not abolish the County Tournament but would serve to create greater interest and make it better than ever. The tournament would be held at the end of the regular conference schedule and the pairings in the tournament would be determined by the standing of the teams at the end of the regular season. Pairing based on these standings would be absolutely fair and impartial, and the difficult task of seeding teams would be eliminated. The tow boys and two girls teams with highest percentage of games won would automatically be seeded.

It is the opinion of the writer that the formation of such a conference would stimulate keener interest in basketball throughout the county, provide a definite schedule decrease traveling expenses, and create and develop a greater spirit of good will between the schools of the county.

This paper is definitely in favor of a Duplin County Basketball Conference, will publish weekly accounts of all conference games and will advertise games of Conference members if the plan is adopted.

COLD! BRR!

Old man Winter swooped down on Duplin County and North Carolina over the week end. Thermometers dropped to 50 degrees and lowers in nearly all sections of the State by Monday morning of this week. Heavy frosts put the blight on green things. Frost covered the ground Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday mornings. The thermometer began lifting Wednesday and pleasant Indian Summer days were enjoyed yesterday and today.

CONSCIENCE

By DR. ZENO H. SPENCE Goldsboro, N. C.

We are still in School and will be for a short time until we get a few facts worth while relative the greatest of books. Yes, we will land on the new found ground before long, but follow me first and remember what I say.

"All scripture is given by inspiration of God." 2 Tim. 3: 16.

"For the prophecy came not in old time by the will of man; but holy men of God spoke as they were moved by the Holy Ghost." 2 Peter, 1: 21.

Came the fifteenth century and the people learned something new, the art of printing. You see even at that time there were inventors, but it was almost dangerous to try and invent anything. At this time there was really a beginning in a slow way, of a great reformation. In the sixteenth century the bible began coming out a little more to the front, coming out into the open preparing for that great final lurch when it would proclaim the word of God to the whole world. It could not do very much at this time but the start was made. Right now there was a heavy pull back for these were dark and dreary times and when we, of this enlightened age look and think back and see this great book, the bible that has stood the test through fire and water, wars and God haters, the book that has never been improved upon or even duplicated, even though it was written when education and writing facilities as we have today were unknown, no pens or paper, no typewriters or printing presses when the average human being had minds that were almost as dumb as our common animals, then can we believe other than that it is the work of God? I ask you to be fair minded, can we?

As time moved on there came those who wondered at this great work, there were those who absorbed, read and re-read it, and their hearts cried out that the world might know its wonderful truths, but they realized that it was written in languages that the people as a whole could not read or understand, so there sprang into hearts a determination to see the book printed in languages that every one might read and understand.

The first bible printed from movable type was taken from the press of John Gutenberg press at Mentz, Germany. This was in 1466 and in 1911 a copy of this edition sold in New York City for the sum of fifty thousand dollars, the most money that has ever been known paid for any single book.

It was first printed only in latin, hence it could be read by only a few. John Wycliff was the first to translate it into english. He did this in 1380 and by doing so started a great revival for the word began to spread. Then others

Welfare Head Receives Letter

Dear Mrs. Boney:

Duplin is suggested as one of the counties for our study on old age assistance. Will you and other county officials cooperate with us in this matter? Final plans as to procedure have not been worked out but will be determined in consultation with you.

According to the 1930 Census Duplin County has 1,212 residents 65 years of age and older. On the basis of studies made in other states, there are probably from 10 per cent to 15 per cent of the total age group eligible for old age assistance.

The State Board of Public Welfare in session yesterday discussed plans for studying old age assistance through some sample counties. The plan is to take ten counties and make a sufficiently careful study to enable us to estimate with dependable accuracy the No. eligible in the one hundred counties.

We contemplate filling out a blank for each person who now resides in the county who is 65 years of age or older, with an income of less than $30 per month. I suggest that you be thinking of a procedure for procuring this information. Since the immediate purpose is to get an estimate as to numbers and not to determine qualifications for eligibility, our main emphasis is on getting as accurate a count as possible.

More People Employed In

ASHEVILLE, Oct. 9. - Between ten and two-thirds more of the total population of North Carolina have been registered with the U. S. Employment Service as being employed since the beginning of the Employment Service in May Thompson Evans, director, announced here today making the annual report of the Service. Over forty thousand of these registrations have been made since the beginning of the employment service. The complete report for the year shows 526,663 registrations and 212,513 placements. The records of the Employment Service for the fiscal year July 1, 1934 to June 30, 1935, show that a total of 75,744 placements were made against a total of 79,500 registrations. The greater majority of these placements covering practically every walk in life were made in private business. The figures show through the fiscal year, monthly and weekly statements of the Employment Service that placements are now being made in fifty and sixty per cent of all registrations. This report is very encouraging as indicative of the unemployment situation in North Carolina, and especially so in view of the fact that the greater portion of all placements are in private industry. Placements in this State are increasing each week according to the reports of the various District Offices, due to the general expansion in private business.
