ASK YOUR FERTILIZER MAN ABOUT THE VERY LOW EXTRA COST OF

3-8-8 TOBACCO FERTILIZER, the modern mixture that so many successful farmers swear by, contains more than 18% more actual plant food than 3-8-5, yet its extra cost is so small it will surprise you. Ask Your Fertilizer Man! Usually only about six pounds of average tobacco per acre will pay the difference in cost between 1,000 pounds of 3-8-8 and 1,000 pounds of 3-8-5. Many farmers have found this very small extra cost to be their best-paying fertilizer investment, returning greatly increased yields of better quality tobacco. Full-grained, high-quality tobacco gives more pounds than thin tissue-paper leaf or light trashy leaf. When you produce 1,000 pounds of tobacco per acre, an extra cent per pound due to extra quality will pay the extra cost of 3-8-8 many times over.

3-8-8

THE TABLE below shows the importance of using plenty of potash. These results were obtained by 138 farmers on 1,242 acres of bright tobacco. Fertilizer containing 3% potash was compared with fertilizer containing 8% potash; or fertilizer containing 5% potash was compared with fertilizer containing 10% potash, etc.

Gain in dollars per acre from adding extra potash to the farmers' regular fertilizer at very low cost per acre
Year	North Carolina-Virginia	South Carolina	Georgia-Florida
1928	$45.27	no tests	$25.12
1929	36.99	$20.62	30.75
1930	39.60	24.85	18.75
1931	28.46	32.84	21.91

TOBACCO REMOVES from the soil more potash than both nitrogen and phosphoric acid combined. A 1,000-pound crop of cured leaf removes about 80 pounds of actual potash or the potash in 1,000 pounds of fertilizer containing 8% potash. The tobacco plant is a shallow feeder that grows to maturity in a very short length of time. For this reason very often even larger quantities of potash than the plant actually removes from the soil are needed to enable it to get sufficient potash to produce extra yields of a high quality crop.

3-8-8 TOBACCO FERTILIZER has proven its value throughout the entire tobacco belt. Many leading growers use 3-8-8 or increase the potash in their regular fertilizer to 8% or even more by using extra applications of NV SULPHATE OF POTASH.

3-8-8

THE U. S. Department of Agriculture and the North Carolina State College of Agriculture, after a complete study of tobacco fertilizer problems, recommend 60 to 100 pounds of pure potash per acre for tobacco. This represents an average of 8% potash in fertilizer used at the rate of 1,000 pounds per acre.

Agronomy Information Circular No. 95 of the North Carolina Experiment Station states: "High-grade, well-balanced fertilizers will usually cost a little more per ton than will low-grade, poorly-proportioned goods, but with tobacco of all crops, costing so much more per acre to produce, ill-proportioning of the essential plant nutrients from the best suited materials can be least afforded. . . . With anything like normal prices, one of the best investments that can be made is that of the proper kinds and amounts of fertilizer."

3-8-8

YOUR fertilizer man knows the importance of plenty of potash in tobacco fertilizer. That is why he has 3-8-8 TOBACCO FERTILIZER on sale. Tell him you want to produce bigger yields of better quality tobacco this year. Tell him you want 3-8-8 TOBACCO FERTILIZER, the fertilizer that contains so much extra-profit-producing plant food at such low cost.

The best fertilizer you can get for your tobacco is usually the most economical in the long run. An extra 100 pounds of tobacco per acre and a two-cent difference in the average price can make a tremendous difference in profits. 3-8-8 TOBACCO FERTILIZER contains the extra potash that produces extra yields of extra quality.
