DUPLIN THEATRE — WARSAW

"Ready, Willing and Able", a comedy with music made by Warner Bros. from the Richard Maconley story of the same name that ran in a national weekly magazine last year, will be presented as the feature attraction Monday at the Duplin Theatre, Warsaw.

Co-starred are the twinking toed Ruby Keeler and the famous young eccentric dancer Lee Dixon. The songs are by Johnny Mercer and Richard Whiting, and one especially — "Too Marvelous for Words" — promises to be a nation wide hit.

The delightful Louise Fazenda has an eccentric role well fitted to her talents as a comedienne and torch singer, Winifred Shaw is cast as a British musical comedy star. Other notables in the cast are Allen Jenkins, Carol Hughes, Hugh O'Connell, Teddy Hart, Addison Richards, Ross Alexander, Shaw and Lee, the "piano-movers" from vaudeville, E. E. Clive and Jane Wyman.

"PLOT THICKENS"

They Met In A Taxi" feature a comedy-drama of a police officer who turns to a New York taxi driver for help when police accuse her of the theft of a pearl necklace is the attraction that will grace the screen of the Duplin Theatre Tuesday.

Chester Morris and Fay Wray enact the featured roles in "They Met In A Taxi", with such outstanding players as Lionel Stander, Raymond Walburn, Henry Hollison and Ward Bond in support.

Based on a Saturday Evening Post story by Octavus Roy Cohen, "They Met In A Taxi" was directed by Alfred Green from the screen play by Howard J. Green.

There's happiness ahead at the Duplin Theatre, where Bing Crosby's latest picture, Columbia's "Pennies from Heaven", is due on Thursday and Friday. A cast that includes Madge Evans, Edith Fellows, Donald Meek and Louis Armstrong, famed king of swing, works along with Bing in the film.

Crosby's latest picture was "Rhythm on the Range," in which he scored a hit. Madge Evans was last seen in "Piccadilly Jim", and little Edith Fellows, thirteen-year old starlet, will be remembered for her performances in "She Married Her Boss" and "And So They Were Married" and other films. Armstrong's celebrated swing band appears with him in "Pennies from Heaven."

The story concerns a vagabond troubadour who falls in with a little girl and her improvident grandfather and proceeds to take them under his somewhat patched-up wing. The child is about to be sent to an orphanage and the elderly man to an Old People's Home when the troubadour hits upon a plan to make enough money for all three of them to live on.

The county welfare worker who is responsible for the child, happens to be just the type of girl the troubadour can love, and he finds himself doing it thoroughly. However, they are on opposite sides of the fence, hence complications. Things manage to work out for the best along toward the end of the picture, after merriment, romance and music take turns with the entertainment.

Resigns As Pastor

Rev. W. C. Smith, pastor of the Chinquapin group of Presbyterian churches in this county, announced his decision to resign as pastor of the church last Sunday. Smith has been pastor of these churches for about seven years and has made a host of friends. The Chinquapin church has just recently been painted inside and improvements made to make it one of the attractive churches in the community. An educational building has been added through the efforts of Mr. Smith. In stating his decision to resign as pastor, Mr. Smith did not state his future plans.

Mrs. Smith is teaching music in the Chinquapin school and will continue in the school until the close of the session.

Duplin Ministers Plan Organization

Ministers of Duplin County met in Kenansville Tuesday afternoon to discuss plans for a county wide organization which will have as its primary aim at this time the temperance question. A special committee made up of the Rose Hill ministers was named to draw up a simple statement of the purpose of such an organization and present it at a meeting to be held on March 30th at 3:00 in Kenansville. We hope that all ministers of the county will be present for that meeting.

Special Easter Musical

The Kenansville Community Choir will present a Sacred Musical program at the Presbyterian Church in Kenansville on Easter Sunday morning at 11:15. The Choir is under the direction of Mrs. W. D. Reynolds, pianist, and is made up of members of all churches in the community. Soloists for the service will be Mrs. Moses Farmer of Kenansville and Miss Nell Bowden of Warsaw. The public is most cordially invited to this service.

PINK HILL SICK LIST

Mrs. H. A. Edwards, wife of Dr. H. A. Edwards, Duplin County dentist was taken to the Goldsboro Hospital this week for treatment and possibly for operation.

Graham Turner, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Turner is in the Kinston Hospital suffering from a broken bone in his leg just above the ankle. Young Turner was injured while playing on a whirl-gig at the school. He is improving nicely.

Indictments Made In Forest Fires

In accordance with the state laws, Duplin Forestry Wardens have found it necessary to bring bills of indictment against some of the farmers of the county who have disregarded the fire prevention program and have set out fires which have damaged others. We hope that these indictments will be a warning to the farmers of our county and that all will cooperate to prevent forest fires. These indictments are for the criminal act of setting fire without first meeting state requirements, and these same people are also subject to civil action to recover damages done to other people's property.
