

LIKE COLONEL DUBLIN'S COLUMN

1 Lombard Avenue,
Foughbeards, N. Y.
March 15, 1937.

Editor, Duplin Times:

Will you allow me a little space in the Times once more?

I read with great interest the article by "Colonel Duplin" in your issue of March 4. It is thoughtful and thought-provoking. "Eternal vigilance is the price of liberty". Liberty can be wrested from us by the courts, by the legislatures, or by governors and presidents. Surely we agree that there can be no real liberty without free courts to protect us in our liberties and rights.

It is hard to see how fifteen justices of the Supreme Court can remedy present conditions unless the court is to be packed according to the president's ideas. May we not live to see our judiciary become the football of the politicians.

There is no doubt plenty of judicial blindness, plenty reaction, and even judicial corruption, but let us not have a remedy worse than the disease.

Truly yours,
JOHN T. FITZGERALD

File Work

Sheets in March

North Carolina farmers who wish to take part in the soil conservation program this year for the first time should file worksheets with their county agents by March 31, said Dean I. O. Schaub, of State College.

However, he added, growers who participated last year do not have to file new worksheets, as those which were filled in 1936 will be good in 1937.

But if any change has been made in the size of a grower's farm, or if he is operating a different farm this year, he should notify his county agent at once, the dean continued.

Payments for diverting soil-depleting crops and for carrying out soil-building practices will be made only to growers who have filed worksheets, he added.

The worksheets, he explained, are not a binding contract; they merely list information about the acreage of different crops grown on the farm and the use made of each field.

Such a worksheet is needed to determine the amount of payments a grower can become eligible to receive and what he should do to earn the payments.

Compliance with the program is entirely voluntary, Dean Schaub stressed. The AAA is offering payments to growers who wish to carry out certain practices to improve their soil and balance their farming operations.

The sooner worksheets are filed, he continued, the sooner the county offices will be able to tell new participants what they will need to do to earn the full amount of their payments.
