DUPLIN — WARSAW

The Duplin Theatre, Warsaw, brings next week one of the greatest array of outstanding pictures in one week, in the history of the theatre.

Opening the week's bill we find for Monday only Fred MacMurray and Claudette Colbert co-starring in "Maid of Salem."

Handsome Fred MacMurray, who has played roles as a newspaperman, Texas Ranger, band leader, society boy, engineer and what not comes dashing as a Virginia cavalier.

"Maid of Salem" is a tender romance of Seventeenth Century America. It is one of the strangest episodes in American History, the Salem witch scare of 1692, in which hundreds of innocent persons were accused by hysterical and fear crazed neighbors with being in league with the devil and in which at least nineteen women died on the gallows for "practicing witchcraft."

In the film Miss Colbert plays the role of a simple Puritan maiden who is condemned to die as a witch on the testimony of hysterical women and over-precocious children, who swear they have seen her in the woods with the devil himself.

Tuesday's showing brings "The Crime Nobody Saw" featuring mystery, murder, fun and romance starring Lew Ayers, Benney Baker, and Eugene Pallette.

For Wednesday you are treated with one of the outstanding pictures of the season "Winterset" Maxwell Anderson's two-season stage success acclaimed by New York's leading dramatic critics as the foremost hit of last season. With three leading members of the original cast, and all the suspense, appeal and soul-gripping love interest which capulated the play into an instantaneous hit.

How the memory of a dead man for fifteen years complicates an ardent romance is one of the dramatic situations. "Winterset" traces the adventures of a youth in a quest of evidence to establish the innocence of his father who died in the electric chair. His mission brings him crashing into a love affair with a beautiful girl only to learn she is the sister of one of the murderers he is seeking. How the lovers overcome all obstacles to identify the culprits with the crime leads to a tense action-packed climax. Burgess Meredith and Margo star in the picture.

At last it is here. You have been waiting for "Lloyds of London" the Duplin theatre shows it next Thursday only. Romance, intrigue, adventure, thrills, galore. The story of a love that changed an empire's destiny. Starring in this picture are Freddie Bartholomew, Madeline Carroll, Sir Guy Standing, Tyrone Power, C. Aubrey Smith, Virginia Field and a mammoth cast.

Friday's attraction brings Preston Foster and Barbara Stanwyck started together in "Plough The Stars."

Saturday 1:30 to 7:00 show features Richard Arlen in "Secret Valley" a thrilling western.

Everyone remembers Edna Ferber's "Show Boat" Edna Ferber is back once again with her book "Come and Get It"
