Windsor's Parson on a tour
Rev. and Mrs. Robert Anderson Jordins, who sprang into the national spotlight when he defied the Church of England's highest authorities to perform the wedding ceremony for the Duke of Windsor and the former Wallis Warfield, shown as he arrived in New York for a lecture tour of the United States, the proceeds of which will be donated to charity.

Ready for Action in Mediterranean
Gas-masked gunners aboard H. M. S. Furious, one of Great Britain's powerful battleships, are shown operating a range-finder during recent battle practice in the Mediterranean. Threats of open intervention by Italy and Germany in the Spanish imbroglio resulted in a concentration of British naval craft in the Mediterranean.

Scientist Puts Old Sol to Work
Dr. Charles Greeley Abbott, secretary of the Smithsonian Institution and director of the American Astrophysical observatory at Washington, D. C., is shown setting up his solar boiler at the Great Lakes exposition at Cleveland. The device, hailed as science's first successful effort to translate solar energy into usable power, would yield a total of 70,000 horsepower on cloudless days, according to Dr. Abbott.

Mush 4,000 Miles to Bright Lights
Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Carroll of British Columbia—the far northern part of the province near Alaska—with their team of Alaskan dogs after their arrival in New York city, recently, by dog sled. Their sled is equipped with both wheels and runners. They have been traveling this way for one year and three months, picking up data for a book they hope to publish soon.

Investigations have been begun on the advisability of establishing a sheet manufacturing plant in Albemarle County. American business recovery is straggling by demand for sheet in space of the West's World's Fair in 1939.
