

FAISON

Miss Charlotte Williams has returned from Washington, D. C., where she has been visiting friends for the past three weeks.

Mrs. Hixxy Best and little daughter, Mary Frances, are the guests of Mrs. F. W. Oakes this week.

Mr. John Rainor and son, Jimmie of London were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Obb Bell last Thursday and Friday.

Mr. Joseph Lucas of Dunn is spending sometime with Benjamin Bell.

Mr. and Mrs. D. Newton have as house guests this week, their Mother, Mrs. Murdoch McDuffy, and their brothers, Archie, Graham, both of Raeford.

Rev. and Mrs. D. L. Jones left Monday for a vacation trip and will visit with relatives in Roanoke, Va.

Mrs. Nancy Aycock, of Black Creek was the week end guest of Mrs. D. Newton.

Lucile Oakes of Weldon is visiting her grand parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. Taylor.

Mrs. D. Newton and Mrs. Mason Baughman were joint hostesses to two lovely bridge parties last Thursday and Friday evening. Those playing at the afternoon party were Mrs. A. H. Witherington, Mrs. Isaac Faison, Mrs. W. T. Hines, Mrs. Roy Cates, Mrs. H. I. Randolph, Miss Winifred Faison, Miss Belle Hill, Mrs. Beattie Bell, Mrs. W. I. Thompson, Mrs. C. Beemes, Mrs. Lula Lewis, Mrs. Earl Owens, Mrs. O. I. McCullen and Mrs. B. F. McCollman. Mrs. H. T. Ray won high score prize, a box of note papers. Mrs. Earnest Taylor won second high, a box of handkerchiefs.

Last Monday morning the whole community was shocked to learn of the sudden death of Mrs. Mortimer Bell whose home was six miles west of Faison in Sampson County. Mr. Bell was a leading citizen in his community where a host of friends and relatives mourn his loss. He was a brother of J. C. Bell and Mrs. T. W. Smith of Faison. The sympathy of friends goes out to them and other members of the family in their loss.

Army Worms Invade Farms Of County

Army worms have invaded Duplin County in several sections and are doing severe damage to hay crops, pasture, corn and other crops. Some farmers report that the pest are devouring late corn and hay crops like a drove of hungry cows. The worms seem to strike in spots and travel in one direction, cleaning up the crops as they go. Where the insects are found they may be headed off by digging ditches or plowing deep furrows ahead of them in line of their travel. The worms seem to fall in these furrows and have a hard time crawling out. Poison bait should be sprayed in these ditches or furrows to kill them before they escape. A good poison bait to use is as follows:

- 50 lbs. of wheat brand (or any other brand)
- 2 lbs. of Parrish Green
- 1 gallon of cheap molasses
- 6 gallons of water (approximately)

The bait should not be made sloppy, but just moist enough so it will crumble in the hand.

When the worms are first found they may be sprayed with Arsenic of Lead and destroyed in this way. Farmers should keep check on their fields right now as the worms are easier to destroy before they cover so much territory.

OCTOBER 4TH OPENING DATE NEUSE FAIR

The program for the Neuse-Atlantic Fair, which will be held in Kinston on the week of October 4th was fixed at a meeting of the officers and steering committee at the Caswell Hotel recently. J. A. Jones, president of the Neuse-Atlantic Fair presided. The program by days as adopted is as follows:

Monday night, Oct. 4th, "Get Acquainted" night, all ladies and children admitted free.

Tuesday, Oct. 5th, School Children's Day. All white school children and teachers in the ten counties served by the fair admitted free to the grounds up to 4 P. M.

Wednesday, Oct. 6th, All colored school children and teachers admitted free to the grounds from the ten counties.

Thursday, Oct. 7th, special program featuring Chesterfield products.

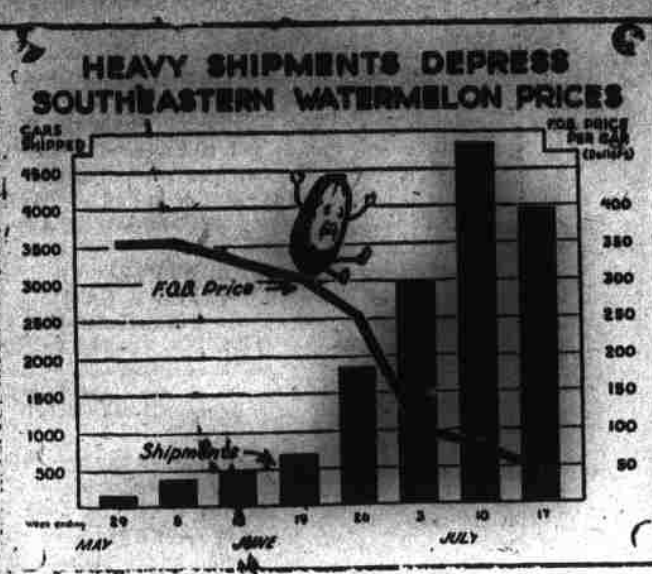

Friday, Oct. 8th, special program featuring Lucky Strike products.

Saturday, Oct. 9th, "Thrill Day."

The premiums in addition to the individual offering will include cash prizes, 4-H Club work, Vocational department, live stock, community exhibits, school exhibits, poultry exhibits, Horticultural products, special farm crops, fancy work, canned goods and the like. The premiums have been increased this year over last year according to a statement made by Secretary N. G. Bartlett to the Committee at its meeting. Grandstand attractions will be up to the standards of previous years, with an aggregation of artists, afternoon and night with Higgins Band for the entire week. Kaus United Shows will play the midway. It was brought out at the meeting that the exhibit building will be divided into 4 exhibit sections which will furnish as much frontage as the fair has ever had and that the live stock pens will be increased to the former capacity. Repair work will begin on the grounds within the next few weeks and by October 4th everything will be in readiness for the opening of the annual fair.

Those in attendance at the meeting were J. A. Jones, Mayor Dal F. Wooten, County Agent C. M. Brickhouse, and assistant O. R. Mason, Home Demonstration Agent, Miss Mae Swann, R. F. Grady, W. G. Hargett, R. R. Rouse, L. C. Herring, V. C. Banks and N. G. Bartlett.

The officers of the fair are J. A. Jones, President, R. F. Grady, Vice President and N. G. Bartlett, Secretary-Treasurer.

How Melon Prices Hit Skids

The unusually heavy movement of watermelons from North Carolina and other southeastern states to market in recent weeks and the disastrous effect of the rapidly increasing supplies on grower prices is shown in the above chart.

The chart, prepared by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration, indicates that when in the week ending June 26 shipments more than doubled those of the preceding week, the average weekly f. o. b. price fell from $308 to $257 per carload. L. F. Watson, State College extension horticulturist, pointed out.

In the week ending July 3, 3,019 cars went forward and the price was more than cut in half or $102. When the shipments in the succeeding week rose to 4,864 cars, the highest figure for any week in the past five years, the price averaged only $77.

Although shipments declined in the week ending July 17, they nevertheless were the second largest in recent years and the price tumbled to $43 a carload.

The heavy watermelon shipments were due to 7 per cent increase in acreage and a 21 per cent increase in production in North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, and Florida, Watson declared.

FOREST FIRE MENACE

"There are conditions under which burning of under brush is necessary and desirable, but the whole sale waste of the State's resources will inevitably bring down the wrath of the whole people on the heads of those responsible for the present condition."
