

Back From Wild Life Hunt

"Puppy Love" Uncovers Old Art

Forgotten pictures, gathering dust for years in an old attic, brought the hope of new life to Mrs. Alida Clark, seventy-nine years old, of Maywood, Ill., a suburb of Chicago. She swapped one of the pictures with Arthur Lloyd, Jr., of Oak Park, an antique dealer, for a cocker spaniel, shown in the picture here. When the dealer cleaned it up he was told by an art authority that it was the work of an old French master, Jean Baptiste Greus.

LOUISBURG COLLEGE MOVEMENT

Louisburg College is putting on a 10-week campaign called the FORWARD MOVEMENT PROGRAM, to raise $100,000 to wipe out an old standing indebtedness and to make certain delayed repairs. The College debt with accrued interest is about $300,000, but with assets the College holds and $45,000 in cash—all the creditors can be satisfied, they having agreed to accept greatly reduced payments. The $35,000 of the $100,000 is for repairs, improvements, which include a dairy farm, hog farm, and chicken farm plant improvements, etc. The campaign started the first week of June and will continue through the second week August.

The plan is to raise the money through the North Carolina Methodist Conference which owns and operates the College. The Program was officially ratified at the annual conference at New Bern last Fall and is strictly a Methodist project. The whole movement is through the seven Conference Districts which include 223 churches or circuits which are composed of 723 individual churches in forty-nine Eastern and Central counties of North Carolina. Over 500 of these churches, or two-thirds of them, have set up local groups of sponsors and committees which are making the local canvasses, which began Sunday, July 25th, when all the churches of the entire Conference observed Louisburg College Day, at which time all sermons, discussion groups, etc. used Louisburg College and its present plight as their subjects. The first reports were made on Sunday, August 1st, and the second and last on Sunday, August 8th, on which day there was a special collection, the only one, which will be taken for the College.

The situation is critical; unless the debt is paid the College will be forced to close its doors and hand the keys over to the creditors by January 1, 1938. This would be a great loss to the Methodist Church and to the Eastern part of the State of North Carolina for many reasons. Louisburg is the only college east of Greensboro owned and operated by the Methodists, in fact the only one by the North Carolina Conference.

Lightning Kills 4 Near Creedmoor

While stringing tobacco on a farm near Creedmoor, four young girls, all sisters, were instantly killed by a bolt of lightning Tuesday afternoon. Four men working near where the girls were standing escaped all injury. The work was being done in the open, and it had just begun to rain, but the hands had not yet stepped working.

"Granny" Newton Passes Away

One of the most beloved citizens of Kenansville passed into the Great Beyond last week when Mrs. Sarah Margaret Newton died at about 10:30 Friday evening after a few days' illness. She was unfortunately known to all as "Granny" Newton, and all who knew her felt that they were in the presence of a Real Saint of God when in her presence.

"Granny" Newton was the daughter of James Carr and Nancy Murray, and was born March 16, 1851 near Rose Hill. On February 25, 1877 at the age of 26 she was married to Noah N. Newton. They made their home in South Carolina for a short time, but spent most of their lives in Duplin County. Mr. Newton died April 9, 1907. She was making her home in Kenansville at the time of her death.

She was the last member of her family, and is survived by the following children: Ernest Newton of Wilmington, Early C. Newton and Sam Newton, Mrs. J. L. Williams, Miss Kate Newton and Alton Newton all of Kenansville. There are 11 grand children and one great grand child.

Funeral services were conducted in the Methodist Church Saturday afternoon by her pastor, Rev. A. L. Thompson assisted by Rev. F. L. Goodman. Interment was made in the Southernland Cemetery near Magnolia.

Active pallbearers were: C. F. Johnson, C. E. Quinn, G. M. Henscott, G. V. Gooding, F. J. Debon, A. J. Blanton, A. T. Outlaw, and L. Southernland. Honorary pallbearers were: B. A. Farrier, L. A. Bessley, W. E. Bessley, W. E. Bessley, Ben Grady, J. P. Merritt, R. D. Dull, H. B. Boney, W. J. Pickett, E. V. Wells, R. O. Tyndall, J. A. Gavin and A. J. Dickson. The young girls of the town served as flower girls.

Mrs. Newton was the member of a family of seven. One member died at the age of 18, but five members died at the age of 65. Mrs. Newton outlived them all one year she being 88. She was trained at Trinity College in Durham where her brother was professor. She was a consecrated member of the Methodist Church in Kenansville, and lived her religion. She never agreed that the modern manner of living was better for morals than the old Puritan living. Visiting in her home you would find her busy about household duties, or sitting in her chair with her Bible. Many who knew her have been heard to remark that: "if Granny misses Heaven, there is no chance for the rest of us." It was always uplifting to be in her presence.

Emblazoned on the front of his sweet shirt are the letters of the future alma mater of two erstwhile one-half year old Normen Scott Barnes, son of Joan Blondell, screen star, by her former husband. When Normen reaches college age, the University of California, Los Angeles, is to be favored with his patronage.

PROUD BARTELLS

Dick Bartell and his son Skippy are all smiles as they pose with the picture presented to the Giant's very shortstop by admirers recently during the celebration of Bartell day at the Polo grounds. Bartell finished the fans with three prodigious hits, one of them a home run.

CHOCOLATE

Kent Holland, who has been seriously ill is not improving. He is at his mother's, Mrs. Omega Holland in Pink Hill.

Mr. and Mrs. Dempsey Smith are the proud parents of a boy 9-1/2 lbs., born August 10. Mother and son are both doing nicely.

Mr. and Mrs. Alton Tyndall visited Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Maxwell Tuesday night. They are spending part of their vacation this week at Moss Hill.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Gooding and Mrs. H. D. Maxwell visited at Belvidere Monday. Vick Gooding, Rose and Violet Maxwell, who have been visiting their cousin Mr. and Mrs. Leo Watlington came back with them.

Mrs. L. P. Tyndall, Mrs. Thad Korneagy and children, Mrs. Alton Korneagy and child were Winston shoppers Tuesday.

L. P. Tyndall and son, Jasper, visited the border market Tues.

Indiana Valued Eds. One of the few cases of rabies by an Indian ever reported in this one-year that of Madison County, Indiana, says the Indianapolis Times. It occurred in the Indian Free Press. After the victim had traveled his country about twenty years ago, he was found to be rabid and was killed in Washington, D. C.

Several years and is a great Bible Teacher. His methods are simple and clear, and the Bible will be new for you. You will want to be getting ready to take that word of the Church of the Covenant for all and attend every service.
