MAGNOLIA ASKS FOR NEW SCHOOL AUDITORIUM, GRANTED

Attack Victim Convalesces at Florida Home

Mrs. Clara Stanley Coe, attacked by three negroes near Pink Hill last month, is reportedly under the care of a doctor at Madison, Florida, near her home at Cherry Lake Farms, where her father is superintendent. The doctor who is attending her "does not seem pleased with her condition," according to a letter from her husband, T. R. Coe. Mrs. Coe was accompanied home by her parents, husband, and young daughter, who came to North Carolina immediately upon hearing of the outrage. She will remain there until the time of the trial of her attackers, tentatively set for October 4. Mrs. Coe and her family are anxious to see the death penalty meted out as punishment for the three negroes. Her father, in expressing appreciation of the way in which the people of this section cooperated in bringing the negroes into the hands of the law, said that his bitterness toward the negroes was no solely the feeling of one man for his daughter's welfare, but that the victim might just as easily have been the daughter of any man in the entire community over which the negroes traveled. He expressed confidence in North Carolina justice.

More than one hundred patrons and friends of Magnolia school went to Kenansville Monday afternoon and met with the County Board of Education and Commissioners, and through L. H. Fussell, principal, and spokesman, made a strong plea for a new school auditorium to seat 700. They are rejoicing over the promise of the required amount of Federal money to build it and the architect will soon have plans completed for work to begin. This is one of the greatest needs in any school in the County. We have fifteen teachers and only 13 class rooms. The two small dressing rooms and Primary Library are being used for class rooms. The old auditorium will be converted into classrooms and library. Magnolia people and patrons of the school already want to "shout loud appreciation" to the Board of Education and Commissioners.

H. E. Phillips

Hubert Everett Phillips, son of Mr. and Mrs. Abner Phillips, of West Siding, plans to open an office for the practice of law in Kenansville within the next few days.

Phillips graduated from the Warsaw High School in 1932, studied law at Wake Forest for five years, where he received his LL.B. degree August 7, 1937. He passed the N. C. State Bar, on August 7, 1936.

He has purchased the brick office occupied by R. C. Wells, and will be located there for the practice of law in state and federal courts. The office in which he is situated was built in 1929 by the late D. M. Jolly, and occupied by him until his death in 1932. Since the death of Mr. Jolly, R. C. Wells has practised there.

During the past year Mr. Phillips has received some experience in law in both Duplin and Wake counties.

Large Cotton Crop in Nation

Government estimates of the size of the 1937 cotton crop place it at 16,069,000 bales, one of the largest crops ever to be grown, looming well up toward the 1928 record of 17,987,000 bales.

Due to such precautionary measures as the nine cents cotton loan, however, it is not expected to result in a cotton depression, according to Secretary of Commerce Roper, who says that the large crop will bring into the South an immense amount of wealth if it brings a "reasonable price."
