

WALLACE BOOSTS DUPLIN'S ONLY TOBACCO MART

WALLACE MARKET IS FIRST RATE

Wallace is the only home tobacco market for the county of Duplin, and its thousands of tobacco-growing citizens. It has long served its home patrons and solicited their business, working under the idea that its duty is to serve the home folks and see that they are satisfied, with it near its growing lands and giving business to other counties.

Wallace's tobacco warehousemen are experienced, reliable men, who have a firm reputation with growers and buyers of tobacco, and so are able to work in harmony with both, and assure the highest prices obtainable on an open market. Although most attention is paid to the growers of Duplin County, without much effort to attract tobacco from other sections, the higher prices and better service of the Wallace market have reached distant points, and every year loads of tobacco are brought to Wallace from afar. The home trade is not handicapped by this distance. One of the attractions of the market is that the hauls are shorter, warehouses are cleared of tobacco every day, allowing farmers to sell the same day they bring their tobacco! And above all, when you sell your tobacco to Wallace you are selling with personal friends, and fellow citizens of Duplin county. Your money is in the county, taxes are paid to the county, and your tax burden is lightened in trading with home-folks. Wallace is proud of her distinction of being the tobacco market of Duplin County, and is confident that the support of the farmers of the county will continue to grow stronger. More tobacco is being sold there this year than in any recent time, and prices are higher than in many of the larger markets.

WALLACE MERCHANTS PROGRESSIVE

Wallace merchants realize the importance of their location in the tobacco market of Duplin County, and have kept in step with the growth of that market by developing and expanding with it, in order to take care of the needs of the patrons of the market without necessity of their going outside the county to trade. Merchants have for years lamented the fact that no shopping center existed in Duplin County, and the county trade was going to other counties, and supporting their business and paying their taxes for them. So it has been a great satisfaction that they watched their business grow, and Duplinites respond to their efforts to develop a shopping center adequate to take care of any and all needs of their patrons right in their own county and their own tobacco market. It is no longer necessary to go outside the county to shop. Anything that may be desired may be found in one of the modern, efficient stores, right in the town where you sell your tobacco. Stocks are large, and include all the items that are expected to be found in a town of much larger size. Wallace merchants share the feeling of the Wallace Warehousemen that the people of the county will support them and cause them to grow and become even more capable of taking care of all their needs.
