F. T. A. RECEPTION

A reception was given to the faculty of the Warsaw School last Friday night at the Thompson Community building by the F. T. A. organization. The building was beautifully decorated with pines, ivy, and marigolds. The hospitality committee consisted of Mrs. A. Brooks, Mrs. J. W. Farrier and Mrs. J. C. Thompson. Members of the board of education, and their wives, Mr. and Mrs. Miller, our principal, and his wife Rev. Cade and Rev. Frank Walter, and the school faculty formed the receiving line. The hospitality committee ushered the guests to the punch bowl. Miss Helen Marsh Best, Miss Dorothy Brooks, Misses Cary and Harvie Williams, Miss Burdette Apple, and Miss Mary Francis Mathis served.

Everyone was seated and the very efficient president, Mrs. R. D. Johnson presided. The opening prayer was offered by Rev. Cade. The Warsaw mayor, J. T. Gresham, Jr., gave the address of welcome. An interesting talk was given by the chairman of the school board, J. C. Thompson. The last and most important talk was given by the principal, Mr. Miller.

Mrs. D. L. Mathis, Miss Nellie Gray Mathis, Miss Mary Francis Mathis, and Miss Edna Britt motored to Goldsboro shopping Monday.

Miss Helen Middleton, member of the Jacksonville school faculty was at home over the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Middleton.

Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Mathis and family visited friends in Clinton Sunday.

Miss Jenny Quinn Cavanaugh spent the weekend with her aunt, Mrs. C. H. Womack of Greenville.

Henry N. Middleton, Jr., who is assistant superintendent of Galax Milling Company in Galax, Va. was home for the weekend.

North Carolina Air Mail Week to Popularize Use of Airways for Mail

CHARLOTTE—At 9:15 this morning, a Douglas plane winged its way from the Charlotte Airport loaded with mail for Southern and Western points. In two hours she had delivered a pouch at Atlanta, Georgia, three hundred miles to the south, and was again in the air on her way to the Golden West with the speed of an eagle. By noon, she had crossed over the great Empire State of Texas, and at 11:35 P. M., as Ripley says, "Believe It or Not" she had delivered North Carolina mail at Los Angeles, Calif., nearly three thousand miles away, the same day the plane left Charlotte.

Speed, the very thing of it almost causes you to catch your breath, an dthe end is not yet.

The Postmaster General and Honorable Harlee Branch, the Second Assistant Postmaster General, have designated October 11-16 as Air Mail Week for the State of North Carolina. Shall we Carolinians stand by and fail to do our part in helping our Government develop this great service? Methinks not.

The sons of Carolina have always been found in the forefront in the line of battle. On our shores of Eastern Carolina, Sir Walter Raleigh, three hundred and fifty years ago, established the first colony of English speaking people on the western hemisphere, and where Virginia Dare, the first white child born to English speaking parents in this land, was born.

Only a stone's throw from where Sir Walter Raleigh's colony landed, American aviation was born.

A handsome memorial erected by our Government marks the spot where Wilbur and Orville Wright in 1903 made the first successful flight in a heavier than air machine, and made air mail possible.

The Honorable Harlee Branch, Second Assistant Postmaster General is in charge of the branch of our Postal Service handling air mail. Mr. Branch is a native Tar-Heel. He was born and educated in the State of North Carolina, and his ancestors lie sleeping in our soil. He has sent his sons back from his adopted state to his native state to receive their education at one of Carolina's famous institutions, the institution which educated Woodrow Wilson, our famous war time President.

With these facts before us, I contend that it behooves every citizen of Carolina to do his part to make North Carolina Air Mail Week a memorable occasion.

Pride in our State, loyalty to our Government, and admiration for our fellow citizen, Mr. Branch, make it incumbent of every Postmaster and every Postal employee and every citizen to see that our State goes over in a big way.

Air Mail costs only three cents more than ordinary mail and takes precedence over all other.

A pick-up will be made on October 12, at all the flying fields in the State, and mail will be rushed to either Charlotte or Raleigh for first dispatch, and a trial will convince the most skeptical that air mail is the future Postal Service.

BRIDGE AT WARSAW HONORS EXCELLENT BRIDGE

Warsaw, Sept. 30.—Honoring Mrs. Glenn W. Rollins, nee Dorothy Walls of Wallace and Kenansville, Mrs. Robert L. West of Warsaw was hostess to five tables of bridge on Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Sterling Murrain on Church Street. Autumn colors were in evidence in the decorations and gifts; clever autumn leaf tallies were used. High score prize, a fall landscape picture was won by Mrs. J. T. Gresham, Jr.; traveling prize, a novelty jar of mint jelly, by Miss Betty Jenkins; low score, a Dresden novelty by Mrs. E. F. Hope. Mrs. Rollins was presented a lovely pottery vase. Guest prize, twin crochery bag, was given to Miss Helen Carlton, bride-to-be. Her sisters, Mrs. Henry A. Grady, Jr., of Clinton, and Miss Lydia Pollock of Kingston, assisted the hostess in serving an elaborate fruit and sweets plate in autumn colors.

Guests playing were: Mesdames Jim Ayers, Bernice Austin, and Rufus Granger of Clinton; Mrs. Emmett Pollock, Charlotte; Mesdames Glenn W. Rollins, honoree, J. T. Gresham, Jr., J. C. Robinson, R. E. Stephenson, J. B. Miller, Edwin Evers, Graham Phillips, E. H. Best, Jr., E. D. Johnson, Ben Bowden, Geo. D. Bennett, E. F. Hope, and Misses Betty Jenkins, Effie Fickett and Helen Carlton, of Warsaw. These coming in for refreshments included: Mrs. W. D. Pollock of Kingston, and Mesdames G. W. Rollins, J. J. West, G. J. Sutton of Warsaw, and Misses Mary Elizabeth Walls of Wallace and Sallie G. Pridden of Warsaw.

Boy Scout Circus at Goldsboro

The Boy Scout Circus consisting of about two hours of drills marching games, demonstrations of the Scout principals and entertainment will begin at 8 Friday evening, Oct. 15 in the community building at Goldsboro. All of the 31 troops of the council will have some part in the program. All Scouts are asked to be in Goldsboro at 1 Friday for the practice rehearsal. The general admission fee will be 25c to all adults. Scouts are admitted free. A large attendance of both Scouts and parents is expected.

Union County farmers are harvesting approximately two tons of prime lucerne hay per acre. They also have a good crop of seed.

Because they secured increased yields of corn this season from the growing and plowing under of crimson clover last season, Orange farmers are sowing a large crop this fall.
