PARAMOUNT-KINSTON

One of the better motion pictures of the year will appear in Kinston, Sunday, Monday and Tuesday on the screen of the Paramount theatre when Deanna Durbin sings her way into your heart and soul in Universal's "100 Men and a Girl."

Deanna is the personable young lady with the delightful voice, who thrilled you in "Three Smart Girls." She is at her best in her newest picture, and trills happily through the verses of classic and popular songs alike.

Appearing in the picture with Deanna are that great musical artist, Leopold Stokowski, who conducts an orchestra of 100 musicians through several offerings of stirring appeal, and the inimitable Mischa Amur, whose irresponsible madcap comedy, with and without benefit of musical instruments, is some of the gayest nonsense ever screened. Adolphe Menjou and Alvin Brady complete the excellent supporting cast.

The story deals with a young girl, Deanna, who helps her penniless father into and out of jams after he finds a well-filled purse and is made to return it by Deanna. Alvin Brady plays the part of the rich but flighty woman, who promises to do anything in appreciation when her purse is returned, and so becomes involved with Deanna's father and his musician pals.

You can't afford to miss this delightful film.

DUPLIN - WARSAW

Falling on a large ice-skating rink constructed for "Thin Ice", Twentieth Century-Fox picture starring Sonja Heine and Tyrone Power, which opens Monday at the Duplin Theatre, was restricted solely to technicians, visitors, and Director Sidney Lanfield, with a one-day record of seventeen hard contacts with the ice.

None of the eighty ice-skaters, however, speeding into dangerous flips, turns and somersaults, fell during the filming of the spectacular scenes.

Miss Heine, who failed to fall at any time, disappointed the candid cameramen, who had hoped to get a photograph of her "sitting down."

Good news everybody! Hollywood brings you a new team of screen lovers. James Ellison, who thrilled you as Buffalo Boll in "The Plainsman," now thrills you again as a midshipman, playing opposite Marsha Hunt in "Annapolis Salute." This is RKO Radio's spectacle-spangled story of life at the U.S. Naval Academy and it bursts with drama, comedy, action. You will enjoy the antics and romances of our cadets who go overboard for the girls. It comes to the Duplin Theatre next Tuesday.

Brought back by popular demand in the most rousing hilarity of his screen comedies, "Handy Andy," Twentieth Century Fox picture which opens Wednesday at the Duplin Theatre, Will Rogers heads the cast which includes Peggy Wood, Robert Taylor in featured roles.

In a romantic portrayal, Robert Taylor makes love to Mary Carlisle with the aid of father Will, who sees to it that the young couple have an ample opportunity for unquestionable talents.

Miss Wood is cast as Roger's socially aspiring wife, who forces him to retire from the business, he loves to learn how to play, selling his thirty-year old ethical pharmacy to a modern drug-department store chain.

On the wall of Ted Healy's dressing room hangs a broken paddle autographed by the Pomona College student who shattered it over the comedian's southern exposure during a hazing sequence for Warner Bros' new musical, "Varsity Show" starring Dick Powell and Fred Waring and his Pennsylvaniaans. The picture is now showing at the Duplin Theatre next Thursday and Friday.

A mysterious girl greeted him by a name not his own and with a knowing smile disappeared.

A few minutes later he was arrested for the murder of a person he had never seen and convicted on the unimpeachable testimony of eye-witnesses.

Sent to prison for life, he escaped to attempt to establish his innocence after the guilty man was dead.

These unusual story situations are being enjoyed by patrons of the Duplin Theatre this week in "Boss Rider of Gun Creek," Universal picture, gripping western adventure film starring Buck Jones.

Two women facing each other in an underling play of life and death, in one of the dramatic high lights in Warner Bros' newspaper murder mystery drama, "Back in Circulation" starring Pat O'Brien and Joan Blondell. Showing next Saturday nite at the Owl show.

Colored News

A new colored high school was opened at Rosehill two weeks ago with one teacher. The negroes of the section raised $1,008.50 necessary to buy a school bus without help from the county.

Superintendent of Duplin Schools, O. P. Johnson, says that the school has been developing rapidly and stands a splendid chance of becoming a very good school. According to Superintendent of Schools, O. P. Johnson, the negroes of Duplin have become more and more eager to utilize educational advantages available in the past few years.

As an example he cites the fact that in the last three years seven new negro school buses have been bought without help from the county. The schools buying buses were the colored schools of B. F. Grady district, Kenansville, Chinquapin, Wallace, Rosehill, Warsaw and Faison. All of the buses were bought this year except those of Kenansville and Chinquapin, which were bought last year, and B. F. Grady, which was bought year before last. Each bus cost $1,008.50.
