MEET THE SINGIN' SAM FAMILY

Here's Harry Frankel—radio's "Singin' Sam"—and Mr. Frankel, photographed in their home, "Justamere Farm," near Milton, Ind. They've been married for four years and are one of radio's happiest couples. Singin' Sam will be heard in a big minstrel presentation when he guest stars on "The Song Shop" program over CBS on December 3.

Yesterday I arose at dawn
And threw wide my window
I stood and gazed in raptures awe
Shocked at all the splendor.

Radiant color met my eye
I wish I might convey
The feeling that was in my soul
And still is there today.

It seems, oh, such a silly thing
To sleep all night and then
When sun and nature call to us
To smile in dreams at them.

MRS. S. K. LOCKERMAN,
Rosehill, N. C.

Health Officers Mean Business

Syphilitics refusing to take treatment have been arrested and jailed in several counties. Dr. Carl V. Reynolds, State Health Officer, has been advised by local health board heads. He recently gave out an interview pointing out the provisions of Section 3, Chapter 206, Public Laws of 1919, which provides that if a person is known to have syphilis he or she may be cited to appear and take treatment. Those who fail to do this may be jailed.

Arrests already have been made in the Chowan-Bertie Health District, and in Franklin, New Hanover, Surry, Wilson and Craven counties. Other arrests are expected to follow where patients are notified and fail to appear.

White people, negroes, men and women are all being made subject to the law, it is disclosed in letters from health officers. Some of each have been placed in jail.

In some instances, the response has been so satisfactory that it is not necessary to make arrests. However, the health officers indicate they mean business and will enforce the law more rigidly in the future.

Puzzle No. 17 Solved:

We give thanks for Thanksgiving

"Therefore will I give thanks unto thee, O LORD among the heathen, and sing praises unto thy name."
PSALMS, 136:1

HISTORY does not record that the day was particularly cold... though we may assume, from Longfellow's description of Miles Standish's graying locks, "Like hedgerows in November," that some snow did fall.

The turkeys, so lately disturbed in their favorite haunts by over-noisy blunderbusses, were roasted to a turn, surely. And of cranberries, corn, pumpkin, squash, grapes and apples, we know there was a goodly supply.

Certainly, there was a miracle to commemorate the occasion. For, about the plain yet bounteous board were men, Indians, whose Gods were other Gods, as unlike this God to whom their hosts gave thanks as they themselves were unlike those who entertained them.

Much time has passed since 1621. Thanksgiving, set apart from all other days by proclamation of the President and the governors of the various states will be observed according to the precedent set by President Lincoln in 1863, on the last Thursday in November.

It will be observed by many as a holiday; by some, as an act of free will, a giving of thanks.
