

COOKING IN CHOCOLATE

to be very nice in Florida. We wish to be quite a lot of people from one home to another getting all set for the New Year. Greetings to all.

Mrs. Alta Tyndall visited Mrs. D. Maxwell and family on Monday night.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Gooding and Mrs. J. W. Rhue and children were guests of Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Maxwell for dinner Sunday night.

We'll miss the "Be-Lieve It or Not" column by Hugh Maxwell since Christmas. What has become of you, "Hughie?"

Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Patterson were Kinston shoppers Monday afternoon.

The B. F. Grady school faculty all finally returned from their Christmas vacations in Florida and other places of interest, and school is going at high speed again.

Many new students have been added and with Mr. Carl Walker, our faithful principal, this should be the best school year yet.

H. D. Maxwell motored to Wilmington last week to visit his daughter, Ruby Mae Maxwell, who is a student nurse at James Walker hospital.

Mr. R. G. Maxwell, "Uncle Bob" came down recently to visit his son, Warren Maxwell, and family, who are now located at the W. G. Kornegay home. We realize "Uncle Bob" is growing younger all the while, and will discard his two faithful crutches soon, though he prizes them highly, as they were presented to him by Judge Henry A. Grady immediately after his accident.

Mr. and Mrs. L. P. Tyndall and Mrs. Lala Tyndall, of Pink Hill, and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Smith, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Maxwell Saturday night.

Presbytery Exercises Power

Fayetteville Presbytery refused to grant Rev. James Appleby permission to leave his field at Maxton, to take up work in Virginia. Presbytery usually grants the will of ministers in such cases but there are a few rare cases when they think that the ministers work is not done on the old field and refuse to let him go. Perhaps people in this section can recall such actions in the case of Re. George Oldham who was pastor at Kenansville. Fayetteville Presbytery however did permit Mr. Appleby to study the situation again and if he was convinced that he was led to the Virginia Field, he would be given permission to do so.
