

LABOR DATA FILE SHOWS 616 NEED JOBS

There are 616 persons in the Federal Government who are seeking in Washington and are unemployed by their agencies as a result of unemployment. However, many labor leaders fear that the application of Federal administrative law to wage rates, hours of work, and working conditions would have the opposite effect and prevent normal, peaceful negotiations between labor and employer. This threatened deprivation of freedom led the American Federation of Labor to oppose basic provisions on the proposed Fair Labor Standards bill in the last session of Congress and brought forth the following declaration from a high Federation official in an address delivered in Philadelphia last December: "Labor is unalterably opposed to any department of government attempting to control or direct the relations of labor and industry from a Washington office. Such opposition is well founded for the power to fix a minimum wage either carries with it the power to fix the maximum wage or the power to fix the maximum wage and the prohibition of wages between the minimum and maximum."

JOHN YOUR HAIR IS A FRIGHT HERE. WHY NOT OL?

Wives, mothers, sisters—they're often forced to hold the way to hair health to their own hair. For women know that a healthy head produces healthy hair. And that's why women everywhere are pointing to OL, the remarkable formula of shampoos which first soothes the scalp, then takes the dirt, parched hair and brings it back to glowing health. OL is so economical, a little goes a long way. Ask your druggist for the regular 50c size. Or write for a generous trial bottle, enclosing 10c to cover postage and postage.

Employers of labor in a recent meeting in New Orleans declared that the passage of any such legislation would result in serious economic disturbances, create more unemployment, and would in effect place both labor and industry under bureaucratic control. This conference also pointed out that every similar effort to control wages and hour by law in foreign countries signally failed except under complete dictatorships and then with a total loss of freedom of action by labor and lower living standards.

ROME EC. GIRLS OF R. H. S.

We the Home Economic girls of R. H. S. Make candies and cook foods that are the best. With our stoves, we are as careful as we can be. And sometimes we are known as the "busy bee."

We keep everything so neat and nice. We sweep our kitchen, everyday twice. When we have finished, you can't see a crumb. Our visitors look around and hold their tongues.

Mr. Johnson gave the Home Economic Department a great big hand. A large sum of money to buy pots and pans. The State also had something to do.

That is it gave us two new stoves and a little fine. We have the prettiest small dining-room close to our kitchen. It includes a table, six chairs, and their cushions.

We have one large window covered in lace. Four shelves, two bookcases, one radiator and a pretty vase.

Mr. Hargett, and Miss Saeeden are O, so fine! We carry them in our diningroom and let them dine. With our host, hostess and guest, we have a fine time. We treat them very fine, so they will let us get out almost any time.

We are very proud and fond of our kitchens. If anybody thinks we would give up Home Economics, they can go to the dickens. We want to study it as long as we live. And when we die we want to think of it still.

Presbyterian Pastors Exchange Plans in February

In the calendar of the Presbyterian Church, the month of February and March are months when the observance of property is emphasized. The Church Year for all Presbyterian Churches closes on March 31. During these months the churches are busy completing the work of the present year and making plans for the new church year. The climax of the campaign is reached in the taking of the Every Member Canvass; the date for this is Mar. 13. The Stewardship Committee of the Presbyterian Church has recommended to the various churches a plan for the conduct of the Every Member Canvass. It includes a recommendation for pulpits exchanges among the various pastors of the Presbytery. The officers of the Presbytery, Atkinson, Wallace, and Rockhill groups of churches have voted to enter into the plan of campaign as recommended by Presbytery. The factors of churches announce the following exchanges.

Sunday, Feb. 6, 11 A. M.: Burgin, Rev. L. W. Kessler; Black River, Rev. F. L. Clark.

TIMELY FARM QUESTIONS ARE ANSWERED BY STATE COLLEGE

QUESTION: When is the best time to test sugarcorn and muscadine grape vines?

ANSWER: Sugarcorn and muscadine grape vines should be tested during the fall or early spring. The vines should be laid flat on the ground or placed in a shallow trench and covered with soil several feet from the end of the vine. The rooting vine, of course, should be left connected with the parent vine until rooting has taken place. If the vines are very long, they may be placed on the ground at intervals of every three feet. In this way several roots are secured from one cane. The vines will be ready for planting after they have remained covered for one season.

QUESTION: How can I make chocolate that will be saleable?

ANSWER: To each 77.5 pounds of white milk add 8.5 pounds of chocolate syrup, heat to pasteurizing temperature (190 degrees F.), stir for ten minutes and then cool and bottle. If a homogenizer or viscolizer is available it helps to run it through from 500 to 1,000 pounds pressure. The syrup may be made at home, but most dairymen who are putting out good chocolate milk prefer to buy the syrup from some commercial firm as this is usually more uniform than the syrup made at home.

QUESTION: What treatment is necessary for seed corn to protect it from weevil damages?

ANSWER: Small amounts of corn to be saved for seed can be protected by mixing thoroughly about one part of lead arsenate with 2,000 part by weight of corn. This corn must be properly handled and safeguarded to prevent its use for food. Larger amounts of corn would have to be fumigated with carbon disulfide. This chemical must be handled with care as the fumes are explosive after mixing with air. The room or bins should be tight, or if the floor is tight, the pile of grain may be covered with canvas after adding the fumigant.

J. R. Southerland Gets High Honor From His Firm

Duplin friends of J. R. Southerland, representative of the Jefferson Standard Life Insurance Company, of Greensboro, will be interested to know that Mr. Southerland had qualified for the highest honor a member of the field force of the firm can earn, membership in the 1938 Julian Price Club.

Membership in this club requires at least two years of service and a consistently large production of new insurance so carefully selected that a very high percentage of it remains in force.

Dr. R. L. Carr, County Health officer, conducted a syphilis clinic in Warsaw Wednesday which proved very successful. He gave the test to 48 people, 38 being domestic servants. All servants also were given the T.H. test and examinations for other communicable diseases. Dr. Carr announced that a second clinic will be held in Warsaw in about two weeks.
