

K'Ville Goes to

Saturday night. This gave the Kenansville boys only a few hours rest as they had played Jacksonville at 3:30 the same afternoon.

It was a furious game and with only 9 minutes to play and Stanbury ahead by only 18 to 14, James Leary and Lester Brinson were knocked out in a collision near the middle of the court.

Kenansville also defeated four teams in tournament play. They were Beahill 18 to 14, Warsaw 30 to 11, B. F. Grady, 23 to 8 and Burgaw.

County Deaths

OSCAR H. JAMES

Oscar H. James, formerly a resident of Wallace, died on Saturday night at his home in Burgaw.

Mr. James served as a rural mail carrier for 23 years. He was prominently identified with all the civic and social affairs of his community.

Mr. James married Miss Annie Hester, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Billy Hayes of Beahill.

BOLAND A. SMITH DIES

PINK HILL, N. C.

The announcement by telephone shortly before noon Sunday, that Boland A. Smith had died of a heart attack in a Kingston Hospital, cast a gloom over Pink Hill and surrounding community.

Although he had been seriously ill for the past three weeks, receiving blood transfusions from time to time, it was thought that he was improving and his untimely death came as a shock to his many friends.

A son of the late Leslie Smith and Mrs. Marie Kornegay Davis, Mr. Smith had been employed by W. H. Jones and Co., since the business was opened here several years ago.

P. T. A. MEETS

The P. T. A. celebrated Foundation Day on the evening of Feb. 17. A short history of the organization was given by the President, Mrs. A. E. Witherington, calling names of State presidents and Beth and Frances of Raleigh, Mrs. J. H. Alphers and Mr. Alphers of Richmond, Va., her nephew, Chas. D. Gaylor of Goldsboro. Other relatives, Mrs. Alice Smith and Mrs. Florence Brogden of Goldsboro.

The deceased was a noble christian woman, steadfast in faith, unwavering in perseverance in life and cheerfulness always seeing sunshine through the clouds and brightening the way for others.

Her loved ones and friends will sadly miss her, but she has just fallen asleep in Jesus' arms through the Golden Gate and joined her husband and other loved ones waiting for her.

"We shall sleep but not forever. There will be a glorious dawn."

Stop Fowl Thieves

Farmers must begin to protect themselves from thieves who steal chickens wholesale.

"We have two ways to combatting this trouble," says C. V. Farris, extension poultryman at State College.

"Second, we must adopt a tagging system so that we may be able to identify stolen chickens and thus secure convictions."

BRIDGE PARTIES

Mrs. Charles Decker entertained at two tables of bridge on Saturday night and again on Wednesday night at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Bell with whom she is spending the winter months.

On Tuesday night Mrs. M. C. Bowden received high score, a beautiful ash tray designed in pottery, Mrs. A. F. Keator second high score, a plant with beautiful pottery container.

On Wednesday night the prizes were identical, Mrs. A. E. Hicks, Jr., was winner of high score and Mrs. J. E. Stroud receiving second. Delicious salad, tea, nuts and candy were served at both parties.

ANNIVERSARY DINNER PARTY

Mrs. Eva Edgerton and her daughter, Mrs. Glenda Roberts entertained jointly for Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Groom on their seventh wedding anniversary on February 14.

The Valentine season was emphasized in many interesting ways throughout the dinner.

BIRTHDAY SUPPER

Miss Martha Faison entertained at a buffet supper in honor of her friend and neighbor, Mrs. W. L. Hicks on her 74th birthday.

Our experience and study of the problems facing mothers and children has given us a knowledge that even the best father does not understand. He has never experienced (with possibly a few exceptions) the troubles that confront a mother with children when their father is gone.

Come in and let us talk it over today. Why not? No one ever knows when the cold hand of death is going to grasp and then it is too late. Be safe and let the "Safe Savings" plan your trust fund now.
