Molly Pitchers—old and new. Left, in overalls, a woman war worker at the Hyatt Bearings Division, General Motors Corporation, Harrison, N. J., and right, one of her co-workers in a traditional Revolutionary period costume, with a cannon rigger in the one named by Molly Pitcher at the battle of Monmouth in 1781. Both women will sell Bonds Wednesday, August 4th, on national Molly Pitcher Day.

Facts About Truck and Automobile Conservation

1. Passenger cars provide 80 percent of all out-of-war workers with their transportation
2. No new passenger cars have been built since February of 1942 and it is expected that none will be built for the duration. Consequently, we must depend for essential transportation on the cars now in the consumers' and dealers' hands.

3. Only 132,000 new passenger cars remain for rationing. In contrast, from 1937 to 1941, approximately 3,245,000 cars were produced each year.
4. Cars are being worn out at a rapid rate. In the last quarter of 1941 we had about twenty-eight and one half million useable cars. By the end of this year, we will have not more than twenty-five and four tenths million and by the end of 1944, not much over twenty three million.
5. As cars get older, we may expect a greater number to wear out each year. In normal times, the average car is junked after seven years; yet, twenty-five percent of the cars now on the road are already over ten years old. Only through mileage control do we have any chance of keeping enough cars on the road to provide essential transportation.

6. Production of trucks for essential civilian use, although not completely stopped, is very low. Only 60,000 trucks remain in our stock pile for rationing by the War Production Board.

high school. The junior college enrollment for next season, which begins September 10th, is expected to be smaller because almost all of last year's freshmen class have been called into military service. The commercial courses and the pre-induction courses among students. The staff of the college is spending the summer in Maxton, busy making preparation for the opening to college and in registering new students.

P J C CLOSES YEAR WITH FINE SHOWING

Maxton, N. C.
July 31, 1943

The financial year at Presbyterian Junior College ended on July 31st showing excellent progress during the past twelve months. The college has served more young people than in any other year in its history. Academic students enrolled totaled 119, night school students, 31, summer school students for both terms numbered 46 after elimination of duplicates, making 196 academic students. Also 107 trainees were instructed at the Lumberton airport as transport pilots for the government. When all bills are in it is expected that the year's operations will show a very small profit. During the year, $9,000 has been added to the endowment by gifts and $4,500 has been spent in building and improvements. A new dressing room has been erected adjoining the gymnasium, and the third floor of the dormitory made into a recreation room.

The Preparatory Department has increased. Young men who desire to prepare for some profession are attending the year-course which enables them to save one third time in high school work and to begin taking college work during their last year in

Back To School IN WAR TIME!

We're ready now to help you parents equip your youngsters for the return to classes this fall. BUT—we have a word of advice for you parents to ponder as you plan your shopping!

Remember how quickly little children grow, and that the trousers that are carelessly bought for Johnny now, may be too tight—outgrown before they're outworn—necessitating an extra AND AVOIDABLE purchase at a time when every extra dollar should go into War Bonds!

Remember too, while fighting this war to a finish, that it takes manpower and many kinds of materials, to win. So check over the children's wardrobes, and before you buy, see what can be renewed for use again this term.....before you spend money for something they won't really need, or can do without.
