THIS IS A CAPTURED GERMAN ROCKET SHELL

When our troops moved into Italy after the landings at Salerno the retreating, defeated Germans were unable to destroy all of their material. In one ammunition dump was found a supply of the much talked-of German rocket shells. The one shown here is about four-inch size. The War Bonds you buy are "rocket shells" against the Axis.

Thanksgiving

A truly American tradition which we are now fighting to preserve

We are thankful for the friendly associations enjoyed with our numerous customers throughout Eastern North Carolina and join with them in the observance of this typical American custom.

This year Thanksgiving has a deeper significance to all of us. It is the part we have regarded with little appreciation, today becomes more meaningful when we realize that we must fight to preserve them.

Two symbols, truly American, the turkey and eagle, will continue to inspire us in the preservation of our way of life in war and in peace.
