PACT FOR PEACE

By Mrs. Wendell Willkie

Two and a half years ago, when newsreels exposing the unbelievable horrors of Nazi concentration camps were shown in theatres throughout the United States, a single thought came into the minds of all of us—"This must never happen again!"

We now have the opportunity to put this conviction into action by supporting the United Nations in its protests against such barbarism. The UN Secretariat has finished drafting the Convention for the Prevention and Punishment of Genocide, the deliberate wiping out of a race or group of human beings.

Under the terms of the Convention being considered by the General Assembly at Lake Success, individual countries would be given the power to seize and punish any criminals guilty of genocide who are captured in their territory. An International Criminal Tribunal, similar to the Nuremberg Tribunal, may also be set up to punish flagrant cases of the crime.

There can be no question in our minds as to the vital need for this pact. The persecution of minorities is like an infectious disease; it is seldom confined to a single group of victims. In Germany, Hitler did not stop with the persecution of the Jews. One by one, Catholics, Protestants, trade unionists and all liberal Germans were suppressed by the Nazis.

But here in America we have always felt the necessity for protecting the rights of minorities and for the strengthening of their basic human rights. Wendell Willkie I think very aptly expressed this thought when he said:

"It has always impressed me

Mrs. Wendell Willkie

that, quite apart from any reasons of humanitarianism or justice or any sentiment regarding the protection of the weak by the strong, it is only common sense to safeguard jealously the rights of minorities. For minorities are rich assets of a democracy, assets which no totalitarian government can afford. Dictatorships must, of necessity, fear and suppress them. But within the tolerance of a democracy, minorities are the constant spring of new ideas, stimulating new thought and action, the constant source of new vigor."

We cannot afford to let down now, even though the wartime pictures have faded somewhat from memory. Rather we must tell our representatives to give their immediate, full support to the passage and enforcement of the Convention to Outlaw Genocide, and must encourage others to do likewise.

Bear Marsh Woman Dies In Sleep

Graveside services for Mrs. Lola Vernon, 60, well-known woman of the Bear Marsh section of this county, were held in the Calypso cemetery Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock, conducted by the Rev. C. E. Crawford, of Selma, former Calypso and Bear Marsh Baptist pastor.

Mrs. Vernon, widow of the late "Ol" Vernon, was found dead in bed Friday morning. She died during the night, presumably from a heart attack.

Surviving are two sons by a previous marriage, B. F. Best of the home, and Russell Best of near Mt. Olive; two brothers, Horace Brock and Ben Brock of Rt. 2, Mt. Olive; seven step-children and several nieces and nephews.

Funeral Held For Mrs. I. F. Faison

Mrs. Isobel Pigford Faison, wife of the late I. Frank Faison, of Fal-son, died of a heart attack Saturday night at the home of a daughter, Mrs. Jeff D. Johnson, Jr., of Clinton. Funeral services were held on Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock from the Faison Presbyterian Church, with the pastor, Rev. J. Murphy Smith in charge. The body was taken to the church at 2 o'clock. Interment was in the Faison cemetery. Surviving are one son, William K. Faison of Greenville; two daughters, Mrs. Jeff D. Johnson of Clinton, Mrs. M. K. Beldhus of Winter Haven, Fla.; one sister, Mrs. John D. Kerr of Clinton and seven grandchildren.

A. They are not as satisfactory as rye grass but they may be used to advantage as a supplement.

Because T. B. has no apparent symptoms in its early stage, people often have it without knowing they are ill.

Plasti-Crete Blocks

Are Concrete Blocks Plus Plasti-Crete

Plasti-Crete is a chemical compound of thermo-plastic and thermo-setting materials. Mixed into the concrete, Plasti-Crete causes greater cohesion of the ingredients resulting in a concrete block that is five ways better.

Tests prove them to be:

- MORE WATERPROOF
- HARDER, STRONGER
- SQUARER, CLEAN-CUT
- SMOOTHER
- BETTER INSULATION

Drop us a line, phone us, or come by and let us show you how Plasti-Crete Blocks will give you better construction at lower cost.

"Plasti-Crete" Blocks are manufactured and sold exclusively in Duplin County by:
