Hunting License Requirements -

Many people have made inquiries as to State laws applying to requirements for hunting licenses when a person is hunting unprotected birds or animals such as English Sparrow, Great Horne i Owl, Cooper's Hawk, Crows, Jays, Blackbirds, Wildcats, Weasels, and Skunks. There has also been a question raiseed as to requirements for ! hunting with dogs or with guns in will be published soon with an an- freely and which promises a greataccordance with the county laws which governs such hunting.

North Carolina law requires all persons over 16 years of age, except landowners or lessors hunting | Health Department working co on their own land, to have a valid hunting license in their possession while hunting any wild bird whether or not it is protected by law. Regulations regarding the hunting and taking of foxes vary among counties which have special fox laws but in counties which do not have such special laws the season U. S. Forest Service for shooting foxes opens and closes with the seasons on other game for shooting foxes opens and closes

Licenses are required to be purchased by fox hunters as well as by hunters of unprotected species in all counties throughout the

Game protectors, who are respon sible for enforcing the game and fish laws, have been asked to exercise care in determining whether or not is actually engaged in fox hunting. After the protector has satisfied himself, however, that a person is actually participating in the fox hunt, and is not just a casual observer from an automo bile, he may require the participant to purchase a hunting license
