PROGRESS IN STEEL PRODUCTION

DISCOVERY OF IRON
 IRON—according to legend—was discovered by primitive man in campfire embers or in meteorites. Iron tools were used in constructing the Pyramids about 3000 B.C. The ancients produced iron in fires built on the windward side of banks, or in pits or rock furnaces, using bellows.

EARLY IRON FURNACE
 In 1645, the first successful blast furnace in America went into operation at Lynn, Mass. The initial casting was a crude kettle. TODAY—huge blast, open hearth, bessemer and electric furnaces in the U.S. can surpass iron and steel production of the rest of the world. Hundreds of patented inventions have poured greater productive efficiency into this mighty mold of progress.

AMERICA'S FIRST IRON CASTING
 More than 40 per cent of all factory workers in this country earn their living by making and forming steel into useful products.
