Wednesday in Vincennes, Ind., a large corn and hog farm will be visited, and from there, the group will go on to St. Louis to spend Wednesday night. Thursday, the group will stop at a farm and the Purina Mills near St. Louis, studying the various feeding experiments on all types of livestock. Thursday night will be spent again in St. Louis, leaving there Friday morning to go down the Mississippi Valley, and on into Nashville, Tennessee. We will stop at a farm and historical points of interest near Nashville, where we will spend Friday night. On Saturday, we will return to Asheville, stopping at scenic points along the way. After spending the night in Asheville, the group will return home on Sunday, arriving in Kenansville at approximately 4:00 p.m. For those who are interested in major league baseball, there will be a game in St. Louis on Wednesday and Thursday nights. This trip has been planned at the request of several of those who went on the Pennsylvania tour last summer and found it very educational by seeing what farmers are doing in other sections of the country. The approximately cost per person for this tour is $74.00, this will include transportation, hotel rooms, and meals.

Any farmer, businessman, or anyone else, is invited to join the group on this tour. In order to arrange transportation for an accurate number, each person going should mail or bring a $30.00 deposit to the County Agent's Office by Monday, June 2.

Clever Hide-Away Does Not Fool Officers

Yes, no doubt about it, the guy was clever. He had found a way to hide the whiskey he had for sale, safely so he thought. But he failed to take into account the wisdom of the deputies. On Sunday afternoon, Deputies Oscar Houston and Oliver Horne accompanied by Williams Evans of the Magnolia Police Force, and a deputy of Willie M. C. Cummings in Tin City. There wasn't any non-tax paid whiskey in sight. But the officers continued to look. Hidden in five spring traps in the ceiling was the whiskey—12 quarts and 7 pints of it. The owner was charged with having it in his possession for the purpose of sale, and he was brought to the jail in Kenansville where he was released on bond.

Tuesday afternoon, the Sheriff's Office made a raid in Magnolia Township about 1 mile east of Newkirk Mill Pond. The officers were the Sheriff, Ralph Miller, and his Deputies, Oscar Houston, Gorman Powell and R. M. Byrd. They found a still of the submarine type with a wooden top and copper bottom of 50 gallon capacity. They also found 400 gallons of mash. The still was not in operation at the time of the raid.

Albritton Strawberry Is Showing Up Well

Raleigh, May 24—The new Albritton strawberry variety released last December by the U. S. Department of Agriculture and the North Carolina Experiment Station, is showing up well in its performance this season, reports G. C. Klingbell, horticultural specialist for the State College Extension Service.

"All growers visited state that they are well pleased with the new berry," says Klingbell. "The Albritton is, I believe, far superior to any other strawberry grown at present in North Carolina."

Uniformity of fruit, color, and quality are outstanding favorable points of the Albritton, he adds. Indications are that the berry will produce over an extended season.

The Albritton also appears very promising for home gardeners, according to Klingbell. It appears to lend itself very well to growing in the hill system, and it probably will soon be the leading variety for home gardens in eastern North Carolina.

Klingbell cautions that there will not be a large number of Albritton plants available this year, and interested persons should make arrangements to obtain plants as soon as possible.

Eagle Scout Presentation Ceremony Beulaville Is Impressive Sight

By Sam Hayter

The Eagle presentation ceremony Tuesday night in the Beulaville school auditorium was unique and impressive. In the totally darkened auditorium a single candle was lit at the back of the audience. By its light, the Rev. J. T. Hayter, Scoutmaster of Troop 47, Hallsville, acting as guide, led the three candidates for the Eagle Award to the center of the stage at front. These were received by Mr. Bill Hewitt, Scout Field Executive, who instructed that there also be brought to the front the parents of the three candidates. These were brought forward by Bobby Miller, Eagle Scout of Troop 47, using the light of the same candle. All having taken their places Mr. Hewitt received the single light and spoke briefly on the obligations a scout has in regards to their duty toward God. He then lit a large candle symbolic of duty toward God as found in the Scout Oath, and also lit a candle for each of the four parts of the Scout Law related to this. The initial candle was passed to the Rev. Jerry Newbold, Scoutmaster of Troop 20 Wallace, who spoke briefly on the obligations a scout has in regards to their duty toward others. State Renews 4-H Dairy Foods

Lovely to look at—delightful to eat, can well describe the appetizing dishes prepared in the 4-H Dairy Foods Demonstration program, which has been renewed by the State Club office for this year. About 400,000 4-H'ers throughout the country are learning the art of making new and better dairy dishes and desserts. This includes luscious ice cream, casseroles, puddings, strawberry cheese pies, orange sherbets and even creamy candies—all high in food value.

June, which is national dairy month, points up the importance of dairying and dairy foods. Special attention is being given to dairy demonstrations. The young homemakers and farmers, individually and in teams, are carefully working out each step in the preparation of dairy dishes, and demonstrating them to others. They are learning by doing—the watchword of all 4-H'ers.

Achievements of 4-H members in dairy foods demonstrations are being encouraged through awards provided by the Carnation Company. County winners receive medals, while a 17-jewel wrist watch is awarded on the state level to the high individual and each member of the high team. Eight trips to National Club Congress in Chicago next November are presented to the fortunate national winners.

This program is conducted under the supervision of the Cooperative Extension Service and the National

There's A Difference

Women have considerable moral sense when they don't love a man. Mighty little when they do. With a man, it's the opposite. If he doesn't care for a girl, he's without scruples. If he does care, he is likely to develop a moral code only the angels can live up to.
