

Wayfaring In Wallace

I am eager to see what a strawberry festival is like, and I understand they have a good one in Wallace. I have been to the market and watched them selling berries, and listened to the rhythmic chant of the auctioneer. But I was even more interested in the farmers who sold the berries—they came in such an amazing variety of conveyances, in cars and wagons and trucks and new shiny modern cars, too. This has not been a good season, the weather has not been advantageous, and laborers are scarce. The market sells other things than strawberries, however, vegetables of all kinds will be coming in soon.

The festivities open with a dance this Wednesday night, and it will be the occasion for real values in all kinds of things—the merchants are cooperating to make this a sale to remember.

Wallace is not a large town—the last census gave it a population of about 1800, but it has grown since then and there are probably more than 2000 people living in or near there now. It has several large industries and many small ones, and there are indications that it will grow much larger in the next ten years. There is much interest in improving pasture conditions and it should be an ideal place for stock raising. It is a big tobacco market, too—the largest one-sale, bright leaf tobacco market in the world. I have seen, as well as the world's largest strawberry market. It is on the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad, and it has a baseball team and a population interested in the team. It has a huge new tobacco warehouse.

If you are a farmer and need supplies, seeds, or baby chickens, go to the Wallace Farmers Exchange—they have almost anything you want.

And if you are in the market for a car, Wallace is really Automobile Row—you can find any kind of car you want. You can get Kalers and Fraizers from the Jessup Motor Company, or you can choose a new Ford from the Barden Johnson Motor Company. The Cavanaugh Chevrolet Company would be glad to sell you a Chevrolet. Also the Blanchard Pontiac Company has a new Pontiac you might like. Soon they will have a completely new body shop where you can get your fenders straightened. At Leading Motors, you can buy

W.P.T.F. To Give Election Returns In Saturday Night

Raleigh, May 25 — Radio Station WPTF has canceled all of its regularly scheduled programs from 6:30 p. m. until midnight on May 31 to broadcast complete and continuous Democratic Primary election returns.

Richard H. Mason, vice-president and general manager of WPTF said today the station would remain on the air until the final outcome has been determined, whether a candidate is selected or a second primary is called for.

WPTF will gather returns from all over the state by special AP and UP election wires, by direct telephone reports from county sheriffs, and by radio pickups from several precincts. In addition, the station will broadcast pickups from both Umstead and Olive campaign headquarters and from the lobby of the Sir Walter hotel, where political leaders gather on election night.

A staff of 12 administrative personnel, four announcers, and two political analysts will be assigned to the WPTF election headquarters in the Insurance Building to present the most comprehensive election report possible.

WPTF is a 50,000-watt station and is heard throughout Eastern North Carolina, portions of South Carolina, and parts of Virginia. It is located at 680 on the AM dial, 94.7 on the FM dial.

a Dodge or a Plymouth, or if you need a truck you can find anything you want at the G.M.C. Truck Company — and don't forget the Buicks at Minchew Buick Company.

If you have gone to all these places, you will be hungry now, and you should try the Old Cotch Cafe. The food is excellent. It is run by Mrs. Phyllis Sanderson who was the dietician in the Chiquappa School.

You will feel refreshed enough to shop at Liberman's or Kramer's and the bargains they are having will astound you.

You could even buy a new sun dress and take the old one you have on to the Wallace Dry Cleaners who will make it look new. Before you leave for home, stop in at the new Wells Superette, a new kind of grocery store where you can find all kinds of exotic things to please your palate. And on your way home, do stop at 'Tut' Fussell's new Lake Tut. No matter how hot the day, it will be cool and breezy there, and you can relax in one of his charming picnic groves. (Aw, go jump in a lake...Lake Tut, that is. Ed.)

For three straight years, the grand champion steer of the Columbia 4-H Club Fat Stock Show in Tyrrell County has been exhibited by James Pledger. His net profits on the three winners total $630.

Real Wood Adds Real Beauty

Matched sheets of hardwood veneer serve as the door panels of the finest new television sets. One door will be almost, but not quite like the other, while both gain their beauty from the carefully selected natural wood grain figure. No two television cabinets of real wood veneer will look exactly alike. Imitations of wood veneer, on the other hand, are made over and over again in an identical pattern. They do not possess the exclusiveness of appearance that nature, which never repeats itself, has given to genuine wood. The doors of the cabinet shown above are of crotch veneer, which was skillfully matched after being cut from the top of the tree trunk, just below the fork.

James Stanley Of Calypso Advanced In U.S. Navy

While serving aboard the landing ship, dock USS Catamount operating in the Far East, James E. Stanley, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Stanley of Calypso, N. C., was recently advanced to the rate of radarman, third class.

Stanley, who entered the Naval services Dec. 17, 1940, received his recruit training at the Naval Training Center, San Diego, Calif.

Before entering the Navy he graduated from Calypso High School and was employed by the Wayne Construction Co., in Mt. Olive.

Navy men are advanced in rate as a result of fleet-wide competitive examinations given twice each year. Actual promotion is based on these tests, how long the man has been in the Navy, and the length of time he has held his particular rate.

Hitch-Hiker Thumbs Wrong Car

A hitch-hiker found out too late that you should be careful from whom you thumb a ride. As Patrolman W. F. Proctor cruised down the highway near Summerlin Crossroads, he observed a man staggering down the road. When the man saw the car approach, he removed a pint of white lightning from his right hand and transferred it to his left so that he could thumb a ride. The patrolman stopped and opened the door. Then the man realized that his benefactor was a Patrolman, so he threw the bottle into a ditch. A few minutes later the empty-handed man was safely

Eisenhower in Belgium

BEAUCHEMIN, BELGIUM—Equipped with a raincoat and combat boots, General Dwight D. Eisenhower can grin at the rain as he gives his smiling Sunday salute to officers during his inspection of the personnel and installations at the Beaufort Air Base in Belgium. This is one of the main bases of the Royal Belgian Air Force and as such is of concern to the Supreme Commander of West Europe's Defense Forces.

Acid Solution Takes Off Blotches on Brick Wall

Efflorescence—alkaline salts working to the surface—causes white, crusty blotches occurring sometimes on brick and concrete walls.

These blotches can be removed with a wire brush and washing with a solution of one part muriatic acid in ten parts of water. Rinse with clear water two minutes after application of the solution to avoid pitting the surface. Care must be taken to protect your eyes when using this strong solution. Wear rubber gloves, too, and old clothing.

U.S. HAS VARIED TREE FORMS

A total of 1,177 different forms of trees—302 species, 226 varieties and 67 hybrids—grow in the United States, according to the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

The rabbiteye type of blueberry is recommended for home use. It is more resistant to heat and drought and is more vigorous and productive than the highbush type.

Masters Charlie and Rusty Lanier have returned to their homes following a visit of a week with Mr. and Mrs. Norman Williams in Raleigh.

Mr. and Mrs. O. S. Thigpen and children were Sunday dinner guests of Rev. and Mrs. J. L. Powers in Turkey.

Consider Look Of TV Cabinet

A television set should be worth looking at even when it's turned off.

In other words, a TV receiver is a piece of furniture as well as a piece of electronics equipment, and it is a highly conspicuous piece of furniture, too. The most prominent spot in the room usually is selected for the television set, and chairs and sofas are arranged to face in that direction. Everybody notices it.

Real hardwood veneer cabinets are used for the finest television sets, presenting an attractive appearance that equals the quality of the best picture and sound reception. Genuine hardwood veneer possesses the natural charm and beauty that have always given a basic appeal to fine wood craftsmanship.

Substitute materials are sometimes finished in imitation of wood grain. Usually, these are either excessively shiny or artificially flat in appearance. Many of them do not wear so well as true wood veneer.

Wood also is important for tonal quality. Many musical instruments—violins, for example—are made of wood because wood makes sound more pleasing. A hardwood veneer television or radio cabinet performs the same function.

GOOD HEALTH

Answer to Question No. 1: 1. Yes, fat people have more falls and other accidents than persons of normal weight. But there are other dangers in excess weight, in addition to the tendency toward accidents. Fat kills in two ways, by promoting disease and by making various diseases more deadly. These factors add to the long list of reasons for maintaining reasonable weight, in addition to the factor of appearance.

Answer to Question No. 2: 2. In comparison with 1930 there is very little smallpox in the United States today. Statistics show a total of 34 cases last year in comparison with 4,800 cases in 1930—a triumph for immunization and one of the great victories in public health.

Doctors state that infants should be vaccinated soon after birth or, at the latest, before the age of three. The duration of the protection varies.

Answer to Question No. 3: 3. A stomach ulcer is a small area of the stomach wall where living tissue has been destroyed. The exact cause is unknown but there are several contributing factors common to many cases. There is a tendency in some families toward ulcers. If a person abuses his stomach constantly by eating his food too hot or too cold, by failing to chew it properly or by eating too highly seasoned foods he may develop an ulcer. Emotional pressure is blamed by many doctors.
